Y TASTES are the simplest," said the philosopher, "I care for the best." The Lincoln of 1937 was created for people of unering good taste. Rightfully, this car will take its place with other treasured possessions — a home, a garden, a portrait. It is fresh demonstration of the long-established Lincoln principle to build as nearly perfect a motor car as is humanly possible. . . . Unhurried craftsmen have fashioned the new car in the Lincoln precision plant. No detail has missed their attention. Every line is alert, graceful, flowing. Every appointment speaks of thoroughness, thoughtfulness and artistic skill. . . . Passengers find the Lincoln of 1957 more comfortable than any predecessor. It is, as always, a superlatively safe car, and can be steered by a finger-tip, or braked by the toe of a slipper. . . . There is power in the Lincoln V-12 cylinder engine to meet and conquer any kind of road in any direction. . . . There are twenty-one body types, including custom designs by Brunn, Judkins, Willoughby, and Le Baron. . . . Lincoln Motor Company, builders of Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr motor cars.

Shopping is Part of the Fun in NASSAU

Foreign shops and markets and the strange wares they hold are no small part of the fascination of travel in exotic lands. Nassau, glamorous admixture of the fashionable Riviera and the primitive West Indies, affords the shopping adventures of a world cruise.

Side-by-side on Nassau's Bay Street and the neighboring byways are smart shops and native markets . . . resortwear from London's most famous clothiers, fine fabrics, rare French perfumes, English pipes, native-made woven ware and interesting things brought by tiny sailing vessels from the Treasure Islands of the Bahamas.

Import duties are extremely low in the islands, so that you purchase imported finery at surprising economies. And, with the exception of certain articles, U. S. customs allows each returning citizen to bring back $100 worth of merchandise free of duty.

Center of Nassau's tropical resort life is the British Colonial Hotel. Its garden estate touches the picturesque harbour of Nassau and overlooks the sea. Within its gates are the pleasures, the comforts and the holiday diversions of a great resort hotel—just beyond them are the shops, the rambling Old World streets of Nassau, the colourful scenes of this British Riviera.

THE British Colonial Hotel has prepared an interesting leaflet on Nassau's shopping adventures and will be glad to send you a copy, with other information on your Nassau holiday. Address: British Colonial Booking Director, 521 Fifth Ave. (Suite 1238-41) New York—the Chicago office at 180 N. Michigan Ave. (Suite 615)—or P. O. Box 548, Coral Gables, Miami, Florida.

EVERGLADES CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT

NE of the most successful tennis tournaments ever held in the resort was brought to a close at the Everglades Club when Charles Harris, West Palm Beach top-seeded star won the First Annual Palm Beach Invitational Tourney singles play by outstroking Walter Senior, lanky Pacific Coast tennis champion seeded third, in the finals, over the four set route, 6-1, 5-7, 6-0, 6-3.

Winners of the mixed doubles event were Mrs. J. Hitchcock of New York and Mr. J. S. McDermott of Mohawk Lake, N. Y., who defeated Mrs. Jesse Spalding and Jesse Spalding, III, of Southampton, L. I., 7-5, 6-3.

Fitful showers which held off during the singles and mixed doubles matches deluged the finals of the men's doubles with Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., and Wayne Sabin of Los Angeles winning by default over Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., and Walter Senior, San Francisco, with the match six all in the first set. The latter two were forced to leave by plane to enter the National Indoor Tennis Tourney which started the following day in New York.

With Miss Edna Brokaw of New York City winning the women's singles title in her match against Miss Rosemary MacKay by a 3-6, 9-7, 6-4 victory, terminated one of the most successful tennis events ever held in the resort, attracting the largest and most outstanding entry list ever grouped here in a single tournament of this kind.

Singles play was the high point of the finals tennis. Charles Harris, seeded eighth in national ranking, employed his usual steady game to win over Senior, ranked 12th nationally, by following the simple procedure of playing purely defensive tennis and keeping the ball continually in play.

He won the first set with ease when Senior seemed unable to find himself, the latter's swift forehand shots hitting the net or reaching just beyond the baseline, his tactics seeming to be an attempt for outright winners rather than maneuvering for strategic wins.

Senior possessed a terrific overhead smash and was deadly on soft shot returns from the middle of the court. However, his return on net shots was weak and he failed frequently on low baseline returns. His tennis all the way through was spectacular but much less steady than Harris.

Learning his lesson in the first set, the lanky Californian resorted to more conservative court work. His forehand cross shots were much steadier and repeatedly he lured his opponent out of position and into frequent errors. At one point Senior led three games to one and then five to three. Harris' splendid overhand play came suddenly to life and he won two consecutive sets to tie the count. Senior was not to be denied though, and just as easily ran out the set to 7-5.

The third and fourth sets were a romp for the local star. The Californian was visibly tired and he netted and outed frequently. Harris' steadiness was outstanding at this stage and he made a number of seemingly impossible recoveries. Senior was unable to get into position for his cross-court smashes and was forced to remain in the back-court throughout the game. Harris improved as the match went on and in the final set his shots carried far more depth, allowing Senior only three games, one of which in the fifth game, Harris double-faulted at point set to lose. Harris' remarkable steadiness told the story in winning the match.

Mr. John Shepard, Jr., awarded the tennis prizes and all contestants drank a champagne toast from the championship cup, which Harris retains, having won three legs on it.

Mr. Alfred G. Kay as chairman of the tennis committee, together with Mr. Luther A. Wait, member of the committee, received the congratulations of both club members and participants for the excellent way in which the tournament was handled. Mr. Winston Guest, third member of the committee, being at present abroad. Ellis W. Klingeman, popular professional, and his assistant, Robert R. Ainsworth, who labored ceaselessly to arrange all the details of tourament play, also came in for their share of congratulations and the best wishes of all the tournament players.

MRS. LELAND EGGLESTON COFER

WHO WITH DR. COFER ARE PROMINENT MEMBERS OF THE PALM BEACH COLONY AND ARE SPENDING THE SEASON AT THEIR ATTRACTIVE HOME CAPRICHO ON BARTON AVENUE.

AMONG THE PALMI

S THE season reaches its heighth The Breakers Hotel is a scene of much gala entertaining. In addition to the scores of cocktail and tea parties held daily at Cocoanut Grove, the weekly bridge parties given in the South Lounge on Friday afternoons have attracted many guests and their friends. A new form of amusement also is the weekly game of "Bingo" held Tuesday evenings in the North Lounge.

Two of the most beautiful dinner parties held at The Breakers recently were given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mc-Sweeney of Atlantic City, New Jersey, in honor of their joint birthdays. Mr. McSweeney's occurred first and the party was given in the Venetian Room. Guests were seated at a magnificently decorated table on which glimmered tapers in four large silver candelabra. The ladies received lovely gold watches made in clips and the men had favors of gold pen knives. Guests present included Justice and Mrs. John W. Kephart, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Garmany, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kischel, Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Moss, Mr. and Mrs. William Mac-Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Rauh, Justice and Mrs. William Woollard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson. Also Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Vale, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Marshall, Justice and Mrs. Thomas J. Baldridge, Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. Thomas Briggs, Mrs. Frederick Proctor, Mrs. John Du-Fais, Miss Ruth Wallace, Mrs. George Magill, Miss Louise Guyol, Miss Dell Robertson, Miss Amy Lyman Phillips, Mr. C. Percival Dietsch, Mr. Samuel C. Colt. Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Fuller, General J Ernest Smith, Mr. Carl Mc-Cormick, Mr. Charles S. G. Means, Col. Frank DeLong.

and Mr. Harry Hart. The second birthday dinner was in honor of Mrs. McSweeney and many of the same group attended. The ladies received corsages of orchids and lilies of the valley and the men were recipients of carnation boutonniers. Favors for the evening were beautiful evening bags for the ladies and leather wallets for the men.

Another interesting party was given at Cocoanut Grove recently, followed by luncheon at The Breakers by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock of St. Louis for St. Louisians in Florida. A number of their guests motored from Miami for the occasion, which is an annual affair.

Mr. Henry Candler recently was host at a motion picture show in the North Lounge for the benefit of the Good Samaritan Hospital. The movies, which included travel pictures of Palm Beach, the West Indies, and Yellowstone National Park, were colored and were photographed personally by Mr. Candler.

With no let-up in arrivals at Brazilian Court, March promises to continue with the momentum that usually attends the height of the season. Newcomers are arriving daily to escape the unpleasant northern March and guests already established are prolonging their visits in the semi-tropics. An important group at the hotel is the Chicago colony, which was augmented by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift and their daughters, the Misses Jane and Marie Swift, who are occupying a suite for a month. Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm are other prominent Chicago arrivals at Brazilian Court where they entertained at the Sunday Night Buffet Supper for Mr. and Mrs. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. John Gould Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baum.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Van Riper of New York are a popular young couple who have returned for a visit at Brazilian Court, following a sojourn in Nassau.

Col. and Mrs. E. Bentley Mott of Paris, who are passing a month at Brazilian Court, were hosts to a smart group at cocktails recently in the attractive Spanish Cloister. Their guests were Prince and Princess Boris Scherbatow, Prince and Princess Odescalchi, Col. and Mrs. Dorsey Cullen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mr. and Mrs. J. Terry West, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jay Flick, Mr. and Mrs. T. Preston Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howland Graham, Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Ditman, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hadden, Capt. and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald de Courcy May, Mrs. George S. Graham,

WITH HER HUSBAND, COL. MOTT. OF PARIS, FRANCE, ARE SPENDING THE SEASON AT THE BRAZILIAN COURT.

Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, Mrs. N. W. Green, Mrs. Laurence Furlong, Mr. Jules J. Vatable.

Count Hermann Scherr-Thoss is another Brazilian Court guest enjoying the mid-season's social activities. He is the son of Count and Countess Scherr-Thoss of Austria and, through his mother, the former Miss M. Muriel White, is a grandson of the late Mr. Henry White, former Ambassador to France and Italy.

Baron Ed Von Ascheberg arrived from New York last week-end, joining Mr. Erskine Gwynne and Mr. Edward Eily at the hotel for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness Philips of Washington, D. C., are well-known arrivals at Brazilian Court where they are passing a fortnight.

Mrs. Courtland Godwin of New York and East Hampton came to the hotel from the Mountain Lake Club at Lake Wales for a mid-season sojourn. Mrs. Godwin has frequently visited in Palm Beach and last season was the house guest of Mrs. Anna Minford Bond.

A member of the summer colony at Hampton Inn, Westhampton Beach, is Mrs. Jonathan Peterson of New York, who is passing a month here. With her is her daughter, Mrs. Peterson Phinney, of New York. Other Hampton Inn guests arriving recently were Mr. and Mrs. John Schillinger of New York, who are here for their second season at Brazilian Court Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Strawn of Lake Forest, Ill., have returned to the hotel following a week's deep sea fishing among the keys.

Whitehall's influx of distinguished visitors from every walk of life have made the hotel their home during their stay in Palm Beach this season.

Mr. Owen D. Young and his bride, whose marriage took place in St. Augustine, Fla., on February 20th, occupied the penthouse at Whitehall. Joining them there for a brief visit were his sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Young; his daughter, Mrs. Everett Case of Boston, and Mr. Case, and Mrs. Young's daughter, Miss Virginia Brown. Following their stay in Palm Beach the couple went to the Miami Biltmore Hotel to join Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty.

Prominent socialites visiting at Whitehall are Mr. and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair of New York, whose marriage took place here on February 16th of last season. They passed the summer at Honeysuckle Lodge, their home at Newport, where they entertained extensively. Mrs. Blair's daughter, Mrs. W. Gurnee Dyer of "Farmlands," Newport, accompanied them to Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. McCarter of New York and Runson, N. J., were important guests at the hotel last week, arriving here from their magnificent estate at Mountain Lake, Fla., where they are passing the winter. Mr. McCarter is a prominent corporation manager and financier, president of the Public Service Corporation of N. J., and a director in several great eastern companies including the Chase National Bank of New York, and the Fidelity Union Trust Company of Newark, N. J.

Titled visitors from England, who have been at Whitehall recently include Lord and Lady Marchamley and Sir William and Lady Coxon of London. Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hutton arrived recently to pass the remainder of the season at Whitehall. The couple visited the resort last season following their marriage, when they occupied Hogarcito, the home of his brother, Mr. Franklyn Laws Hutton and Mrs. Hutton. They passed several months in Europe last summer attending the Salzburg Music Festival and going to St. Moritz for a brief visit before returning to the States.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn McNaughton were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bodell, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Merrill.

Others entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoskry Butt, Mr. Edmund B. Dunn, Mrs. Henry Haven Windsor, Sr., Mrs. Conway H. Olmstead, Mr. Robert Vernon Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kent, Mrs. Robert J. McKeon, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beatty, Mrs. Edward Plaut, Mr. Sidney and Mr. Guilford Dudley, Jr.

Noted lunching at the club were Miss Anton Dunn, Miss June Dunn, Mr. Eric Dunn, Mrs. Arthur Cooley, Mrs. Gurnee Cumming, Miss Lois Long, Mr. Carman Messmore, Mr. Esmond Paul O'Brien, Mr. Alfred V. Leaman, III, Miss Lillian Feitner, Miss Marjorie Le Bouteillier, Mrs. Stanley B. Gensler and Mr. Roderick McNeil.

During the heighth of the season The Breakers Cabana Club presents a gay spectacle as throngs of people crowd the sands of the beach, swim and dive in the swimming pool, and entertain at cabanas during the fashionable bathing hour.

Miss Beatrice Dyer has leased a cabana for the remainder of the season. Recently glimpsed visiting her there were Mrs. Richard Grote and Mr. Thomas J. Dyer.

Senator and Mrs. J. M. Wilson of Montreal are regular visitors at the beach. At their cabana with them of late were their daughter and son-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Rupert

The popularity of the Sea Spray Club does not seem to wane as the season advances, and many are the gay parties seen lunching daily, playing tennis, swimming in the surf, or in the more placid waters of the pool.

A great deal of attention is also paid by this club to sports for children, the swimming meet having attracted many of the members and their guests, while the tennis tournament, recently was the headliner for the youthful members. Those taking part in the matches were: Among the girls, the Misses Frances Gensler, Peggy Rich, Leila Chadbourne, Marilyn Prudden, Lenore Emery, Helen Homan, Patricia Pettingill, Nancy Homan and Marjorie Chadbourne. The boys listed in the tournament were, Kroker Pettingill, Jerry Rich, Daniel Pettingill, Robert Bennett, Robert Huntington, Compton Allyn, Vincent Fotre, Jr., Roscoe Anthony, Jr., and James Burns III.

Clear skies and balmy breezes are always a great inducement to the members of the Sun and Surf Club to enjoy the many facilities for entertainment which this popular club offers.

Early morning finds the volley ball court the center of attraction with spirited games being played by such star players as George Jessel, Stan Schendel, A. L. Kellock, Herman Moser and W. L. Anderson. The ping pong table also has an anxious line of players waiting their turn, while handball, which has always been a great favorite for those who really enjoy strenuous exercise, attracted a large gallery recently when a doubles match was played between Mr. Arthur Brown and Mr. Jack Cleary, versus Mr. Thomas Phelan and Mr. Daniel Cleary, the former winning in a very close game. Later, a singles match between Mr. Phil O'Connell and Mr. Jake Boyd proved equally thrilling as both players are among the best in the winter colony.

Recently seen enjoying the terraces of their cabanas during the luncheon hour were: Mrs. W. W. Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Plantroth, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Rinke, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kellock, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marchment, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rabe, Mr. and Mrs. John Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. George Jessel, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Major and Mrs. R. H. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Howland Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Harstone, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Anderson, Mrs. Lillian Hogan, Mrs. Victor Watson, Dr. and Mrs. Leon Levy, Mr. Roderick Terry and guests, Mr. Frank Godwin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Shevlin, Captain and Mrs. Lewis Morris.

Prominent guests of the club who took part in the Kiwanis Benefit, included: Mr. Sam Harris, Mr. Arthur Hammerstein, Mr. Phil Baker, Mr. Harry McNaughton, Mr. Ward Wilson, Miss Estelle Jayne, Miss Terry Lawlor, Mr. Nick Long Jr., Miss Eunice Healy, Mr. George Jessel, Mr. Glen Pope, Mr. Jack Bertel and Mr. Lou Holtz.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

TYLES destined for stardom under southern skies, seem to have congregated in this exclusive colony, for never before have they been so originally and beautifully designed, and that goes for both daytime and evening. All of the ingredients for a lavender and old lace story have gone into the fashioning of cocktail, dinner and evening gowns, while the peasant theme, expressed most recently by the dirndl, is more and more, influencing sport clothes, and in fact most of the things worn during the sunny hours.

So it is small wonder that wherever one goes in Palm Beach, one sees beautiful women, who seem even more lovely dressed in the picturesque versions of Dame Fashion's latest mood.

Mrs. William Warden wore recently for luncheon at the Everglades Club, a two piece dress of white linen, the skirt of which was plain and slightly flared, while the blouse had short sleeves and was trimmed from the collarless neckline to the waist with looped buttons of navy blue. With it she wore a clip of sapphires and diamonds, a navy and white scarf, and white hat trimmed in navy.

Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler wore recently for a cocktail party, a heavy white crepe sport dress, with a fitted blouse and gored and slightly flared skirt. Schiaparelli hooks and eyes of maroon fastened it down the front, and with it she wore a crownless turban of the maroon.

For the Kiwanis Club benefit, Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury wore a handsome gown of black and silver lame, with a triple strand of beautiful pearls, a pearl and diamond dog-collar earrings and tiara.

Mrs. Walter Kirk, who is a guest of Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, was seen on Worth Avenue recently wearing a becoming two-piece sport dress of yellow flannel. Her small roll brimmed turban was also of yellow, and her accessories were white.

Mrs. Harry R. Hyde, who is a guest at the Everglades Club, wore for the Red and White Ball, a stunning gown of red net, the skirt of which was very full, the bodice slimly fitted, with narrow shoulder straps and a low V decolletage. With it she wore gardenias.

Madame Lucretia Bori chose for her costume for the Red and White Ball, an exquisite gown trimmed with long white fringe. With it she wore a cluster of red carnations and a white ermine cape.

Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann was very distinctive at the Red and White Ball, in a simply designed white evening gown, the bodice snug, with a V decolletage, and the skirt swirling from a fitted hip line to a full hem. This lovely gown was a very appropriate foil for her famous diamond and ruby jewels.

Mrs. Hugh Dillman wore for the Red and White Ball, a very handsome gown of scarlet lace, the bodice perfectly plain, and the skirt gathered at the waistline. A beautiful lei of gardenias, gave the finishing touch to her costume.

The color motif was perfectly carried out at the Red and White Ball by Mrs. Dodge Sloane, who wore a white beaded gown of crepe, with a red tulle ruff. A white net cap trimmed with red carnations, with red gloves and slippers, made a most entrancing picture.

Mrs. Thomas Shevlin was seen on Worth Avenue recently in an attractive India cotton print dress, made on peasant lines, with a square neck, puffed sleeves and full skirt which flared circularly from a fitted hip line. With it she wore colorful peasant sandals.

Miss Muriel Richards was charming as she danced in a youthfully fashioned gown of plaited white chiffon, the bodice made with a square decolletage and narrow shoulder straps, and the skirt extremely full. With it she wore a silver fox cape.

Mrs. Alastair Mackintosh wore for shopping several days ago, tailored gray slacks, and a matching knitted jacket, which was quite short and had a tuck-stitch collar and yoke. A wide leather belt, with flaps in link effect, and a dark blue scarf with "Mussolini" written across it in script, were notable accessories.

Miss Dorothy Hannerty, the charming young niece and house guest of Mr. William T. Hoops, wore at a recent luncheon at the Everglades Club, a frock of white crepe, with a bolero jacket trimmed in apricot, accompanied by a sash of the same color. With it she wore a gracefully wound head band.

Miss Charlotte Craig, who is Miss Hannerty's cousin, wore for the same occasion, a sport dress of royal blue and white, the blouse with tiny revers and short sleeves, and a slightly flared skirt. A smart off the face hat of white, completed her attractive ensemble.

The Red and White Ball seems to have set the vogue for that combination of colors, and Mrs. Walter Hopkins wore a beautiful white afternoon gown recently at the Everglades Club, a red straw hat with a multi-colored band, the whole being smartly set off by red shoes.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ Miss Jane Rovensky also chose a red and white combination for luncheon at the Everglades Club, which was a white print, featuring red stars.

Mrs. George Williams chose a white marquisette for luncheon at the Everglades Club, the blouse solidly embroidered in tiny red flowers, and the skirt plain white, slightly flared. With it she wore a smartly tilted hat of white.

At the same luncheon at the Everglades Club, Mrs. Wade Carpenter wore a sport dress of white, with a wide brimmed straw hat, trimmed with a multi-colored band, Mrs. Guernsey Curran, Jr., was charming in pastel blue, with a blue and white straw hat, and shoes of a darker blue, while Mrs. John Robert Bryden wore red, with a red and black hat, and Mrs. Maurice Fatio was striking in apricot.

Mrs. Lorenzo Woodhouse was charming at a luncheon recently, in a tailored suit of gray, with which she wore a wide brimmed hat of red straw.

Mrs. William A. Phillips was seen recently on a shopping tour, wearing a two-piece sport dress in a print, which featured tailored breast pockets, a close fitting collar, a neat buttoned closing, and clusters of plaits on the skirt.

LIFE AND GAIETY IN COTTAGE COLONY

ACK in the colorful nineties, hardly a story of Palm Beach was fashioned without the writer using the phrase "Down in Gay Palm Beach" at least once in his literary contribution. While present day scribners are a bit more versatile and have subrogated the hackneyed "Gay" for various descriptive expressions, we find this word so eloquently descriptive of the present sparkling activities encountered on the island that an attempt will be made to dust off this outcast and restore it to active use again.

IS SHOWN IN THE PATIO OF EL PALMAR ON THE SOUTH OCEAN BOULEVARD. SHE IS BEING EXTENSIVELY ENTERTAINED DURING HER SOJOURN IN THE RESORT.

For Palm Beach today is really gay, with a gayety that is heart-warming after the rather lackadaisacal seasons of the past several years. Mansions that have been either actually boarded up or withdrawn from the life of the colony now blaze with lights and animation. Once again the brilliance that was Palm Beach is an integral part of the world's premier winter resort.

Notable among the socialites who have restored their homes to their rightful place in the social sun are the distinguished Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury. For years this charming and beloved couple retired into the peaceful seclusion of their beautiful estate, leaving the entertaining for the other social leaders on the island.

Came the depression and the resultant feeling of unrest among the financial leaders in the country and virtual seclusion for many including the eminent financier, Mr. Stotesbury, who as senior partner of J. P. Morgan and Company, was a prominent target for many envious and malicious failures.

Bridge luncheons at home for their host of friends, entertainments at the island's smart clubs and the highlight of the social season, Mr. Stotesbury's eighty-eighth birthday, have again caused the gravel on their picturesque estate roads to resound from the music of hundreds of well tread tires.

Mrs. James B. Duke, was the guest of honor at one of the brightest of the parties in the Stotesbury home this season. Gathered to honor her were many of the leading families on the island. Mrs. Duke's daughter is the wife of Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mrs. Stotesbury's globe-trotting and sports-loving son, who is apt to be heard from one day in China and the next day winging his way to the other side of the world. He and Mrs. Cromwell were in Honolulu together at the last writing but this article will probably find them home. "Jimmy" Cromwell is famous in Palm Beach for having taken time off from writing a brochure on the financial life of the world and hopping about the globe to swap punches with Gene Tunney in a bang-up toe to toe boxing match that Mr. Tunney will probably remember for years.

Over twelve hundred friends of the Stotesburys attended the party in honor of Mr. Stotesbury's birthday recently. What appeared to be an endless procession of cars converged at the gates of El Mirasol as the island's notables gathered to greet the distinguished financier and his lovely wife.

The debonair Mr. Stoesbury contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion by joining the orchestra with his famous drum, cutting his gigantic birthlay cake and leading his guests in singing "The Old Family Toothbrush" and other hilarious ballads. Mrs. Stotesbury, as hostess, was her own inimitable gracious self, greeting all of the twelve hundred and more guests personally and seeing to it that each of them enjoyed the reception as much as did the perenially youthful Mr. Stotesbury.

MISSES ELEANOR AND TERRY CAMPERIO
THE DAUGHTERS OF MRS. ELEANOR CAMPERIO WHO ARE GUESTS OF MRS. IRVING HALL
CHASE AT "EL PALMAR," ON THE SOUTH OCEAN FRONT.

While Mrs. James R. Donahue has not entertained for any pretentious gatherings this year, her lovely sea-side castle is again open after standing idle for several years while she and her friends cruised about on her palatial yacht. Mrs. Donahue has been hostess to many informal gatherings, many of them honoring her guests, Prince and Princess Hohenlohe Schillingfurst.

Her interesting little Beach Colony has been one of the liveliest spots in the colony this season. Nestled cozily between the ocean road and the sea a veritable miniature seaside village with tennis courts, cottages, solariums and even a corner Pub contribute to the enjoyment of Mrs. Donahue's guests this winter.

On most any of the sunny days the Donahue entourage may be seen sunning themselves or at gay cocktail parties on the veranda of one of their brightly decorated cottages. Blue and White striped gabled roofs with brilliant red trimming form a colorful oasis amid the green of the landscaped terraces and the monotone of the beach sand in the Donahue sea-side domain where this popular hostess and her friends spend most of their time during the day.

Hardly an hour of the day when the immaculately groomed tennis courts, the solariums or the spacious verandas are not teeming with life and color this season as Mrs. Donahue continues to occupy her lovely Palm Beach home in preference to cruising about in her sea-going yacht.

Reminiscent of the glorious days when Mr. Joseph Riter and other grand hosts of the old days used to bring internationally known musicians to Palm Beach for private recitals, was the recent musical reception held by the Hugh Dillmans at which Lucretia Bori, famous Metropolitan and concert Star sang for over three hundred of their friends.

Not since the Riter home with its magnificent music-room and old world gables occupied the lake trail in all its glory has Palm Beach been entertained so lavishly. A distinguished group of guests included the Hon. Frederick E. Guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Prince and Princess Boris Scherbatow, Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mrs. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, Mrs. Earle Perry Charlton, Mrs. James B. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mr. William Theodore Hoops, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Lady Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William McMaster Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Julian Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann.

Also Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mrs. Joseph Verner Reed, Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherfurd, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oliver Reed, Mr. and Mrs. J. Smithers, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bayard Swope, Mr. John Sanford, the Right Reverend Nathaniel Seymour Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Dusen, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Q. White and a host of social notables.

The home of that famous Palm Beach host, Mr. Charles Munn, has been the setting for a number of interesting parties in honor of his continental guests, who range from the titled Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, to Brigadier General Alfred Cecil Critchley of London, representing his Majesty's Royal Canadians. The Countess of Abingdon, Captain the Honorable Charles Winn and many other internationally known social notables have made his home their winter base this season.

Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff has entertained at many delightful parties this season at her lovely home "Casa Marcheta." She was hostess at a recent dinner party in honor of her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Thomas F. Gilroy and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Ley, who are visiting Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Howes Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McQuesten, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Mrs. Zenas Sears, Mrs. Harvey Hubbell, Mrs. Herbert E. Gale, Mrs. Earle Perry Charlton and Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow.

The distinguished donor of the famous "Pulitzer Prize," Mr. Herbert Pulitzer, and his charming wife have been hosts to many brilliant gatherings this season.

More than one hundred of the Palm Beach group were guests at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer at their ocean front villa. Among those present were the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, Captain Alastair Mackintosh and Mrs. Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. MC KEE JUNGLE GARDEN NATURE'S WONDER SPOT

WENTY-FIVE thousand miles of journeying and an infinite amount of patient search would be necessary for the seeker after the unusual to find the many wonders encountred at McKee Jungle Gardens in their native setting.

This fertile wonder spot, which is situated just seven miles south of Vero, between the Federal Highway and the sparkling waters of the Indian River, has produced countless natural marvels on its own but not content with the overabundant attractions already to be found in the gardens, the guiding light of this amazing enterprise, Mr. Waldo Sexton, cosmopolite, adventurer and one of the shrewdest showmen in the country has gathered from the ends of the earth curiosa of all descriptions.

While the collection of the many unusual specimens found in the gardens is remarkable in itself, of still greater interest is the extraordinary way the transplanted wonders flourish in their new environment. The soil in this Eden of the tropics seems to literally push the trees and shrubs planted there, toward the life-giving sun each day.

Bamboo sprouts ordinarily growing to heights of fifty or seventy-five feet in a life-time, shoot up in this weird spot to dizzy swaying sky-scrapers in a short time; some of them promising to surpass the 150-foot mark. Palm trees are found growing in the crotches of enormous live oak trees and actually attaining pretentious proportions in some cases; and in the jungle-like "Maize," that pre-historic glade which brings to mind all of the fairy stories you have ever read, about dragons, one-eyed Cyclops and other fabulous monsters, one finds that one variety of tree has become intertwined with a totally different species and a hybrid growth of impressive size has sprouted from the intersecting point.

Botanists and horticulturists leave the gardens muttering that the McKee Jungles violate all the laws of nature and are often discovered cross-examining Mr. Hanson, the garden's plant wizard, in an effort to ferret out the secret of the many extraordinary things they have just witnessed. Mr. Hanson is frank to confess that some of the miracles he witnesses almost daily in the gardens are as much of a mystery to him as they are to visiting notables in the world of plants and trees.

Miles of wordage have been turned out about the wonders of the McKee Jungle Gardens. Scientists and naturalists have written articles in the world's leading magazines about a tree which makes and stores 124 gallons of palm wine within its spacious bosom; the coffee bushes, Para Rubber trees, native British Guiana sea grape plants with leaves larger than any hard-wood plant in the world; elkhorn ferns growing out of rotting logs and the riot of vegetation growing out of and on everything in sight in this show-place.

Panama Hat plants; the "Resurrection fern" which comes out when it is going to rain and folds up when a dry spell is indicated; towering cabbage palms 70 feet high with beautiful gardens of brilliant green ferns growing from their tops; rare asparagus ferns; oak trees over 550 years old by Government computation; trees on which the berries ferment causing the birds which frequent the gardens to become intoxicated at intervals; orchids of every description; giant lily pads large enough to form a platform suitable for a tea party; rare perfume trees whose scent permeated the air for a great distance and a host of marvels too numerous to mention for the entertaining bit of romance which treats of "Ali journals of the world.

However there are importations this year which no periodical has featured as yet for they are very recent additions to this colony of unusual curiosa.

Resting very modestly in a secluded nook of the gardens is an enormous antique olive jar, recently imported from Arabia at considerable expense which has a legendary background equal to any age-old specimen of the collector's art in the world today. It was brought to the gardens fresh from the very province in Arabia from which the legend of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" emanated; for according to Arabian history which is an odd mixture of fact and fiction similar to Greek Mythology there was actually some foundation for the entertaining bit of romance which treats of "Ali Baba" and his odd adventure with the forty thieves.

The natives in southwestern Arabia, around which the tale was written, insist that there were forty of these jars set aside for posterity in commemoration of the bravery and intrepidity of one Ali Bey, who was not a ficitional character but a very real personage.

Their story which has been handed down to them from generations of tradition coincides remarkably with the Fairy Tale version with which we are all familiar. There are only three of these jars extant after all these years and the Arab priests of Islam in the kingdom of Hejaz are emphatic in vouching for their authenticity.

In size and appearance the beautiful specimen at the gardens is certainly a plausible bit of evidence of the truth of this fascinating old story, for a large man can easily hide within its depths. The subject who posed in the jar for the picture in this edition was a strapping Seminole Indian fully six feet tall. Government pottery experts say that this jar is the finest specimen ever seen in this country.

Here too is one of the oddest natural freaks ever collected, a double coconut grown in the Sand-shell islands between the mainlands of Africa and India. This hybrid is entirely dissimilar to the coconut as we know it. It has two separate and distinct entities and is welded together in the manner of the Siamese twins. Male and female characteristics are apparent in this odd natural freak. Mr. Sexton says that there is a waiting list of hundreds of scientists trying to secure one of these curious duo specimens for their collections.

One of the most impressive of the importations is an enormous double slab of solid mahogany the largest cut ever to be made in this country and possibly in any country. Out of these huge bits of lumber Mr. Sexton plans to fashion banquet tables and benches for his library of rare samples of wood and things fashioned of wood. Paul Goodridge, internationally known collector, is making a tour of the globe at present gathering many specimens for this collection. The McKee Jungle Gardens expect to have the greatest collection of rarities in the world along this line to supplement their other world famous collections.

The story of the acquisition of these enormous slabs of solid mahogany makes as interesting a tale as any of the articles written around the other remarkable phenomena in the gardens.

The tree from which the slabs in the garden were cut was felled in the upper reaches of Rio Acre, a branch of Rio Purus which is a tributary of the Amazon River. This territory is situated in the most inaccessible portion of the Republic of Peru. The tree was cut down last October during the dry season by the native Indians and rolled with hand sticks cut from the jungle into dry creeks which flooded during the early months of the year. The log was then brought down on the flood waters to larger streams where it joined other logs of almost equal proportions and was bound to a number of them by long flexible vines to form an enormous raft. The raft was then poled down river by the current for a trip of 1500 miles to the city of Manaoa in Brazil where they were loaded on ocean-going vessels and shipped to the mills in New Orleans.

The slabs in the garden are twenty-two feet long, forty-seven inches across and two and a half inches thick. According to Mr. Sexton these pieces when finished and made into a banquet table and benches will be the largest of their kind in the world.

Another remarkable collection of boards hewn from enormous trees in Florida is not to be found in the Gardens but in fashionable Vero Beach estates, where Mr. Sexton is erecting a beach club, to which the visitor to the Gardens will be welcome.

The boards used for this ingeneously contrived structure are fully four feet wide and will constitute the only complete collection of cypress boards of this size in the world.

The beach club, whose walls are entirely made of these boards, should last for thousands of years if the evidence of the shingle board in the possession of Mr. Sexton is any criterion. This board is computed by scientists to be 60,000 years old and is still in a perfect state of preservation. It was found in the delta opposite Annapolis in Maryland recently and added to the Garden's collection of unique wood collections.

Howard Major has erected a number of beautiful villas within a stone's throw of the new beach club and the RioMar Country Club is a short walk from this attractive addition to the colony.

Notable among the residences recently built in this section is the ocean front home of Mr. Preston DeGardner, sportsman and bon-vivant, whose hospitality is renowned from Palm Beach to Patagonia. Mr. DeGardner's beautiful home nestles gracefully between the ocean and the neatest little nine-hole course in Florida, and is just a short jaunt from "Driftwood," the Sexton version of a smart beach club, which promises to become as famous as the MeKee Gardens.

Other owners of lovely homes in this section are Dr. John P. Sawyer of Cleveland, O., who is a member of the famous Union Club; Winchester Fitch of Greenwich, Conn., James Soutter, Greenwich, Conn., Col. Wood, the president of Sears Roebuck, and John Madlinger, a grandson of Palm Beach's well known and loved John Pullman.

One of the finest dairies in the state furnishes the milk for this distinctive colony. Situated a few miles west of Vero, Mr. Sexton's estate houses the most completelyequipped dairy in a state famous for its splendid dairies.

Even a foot-bath is necessary for the bovine members of this sterilized colony. A specially constructed pool having been built into the solid concrete runway which ushers the cows into their respective apartments. No modern up-to-date apartment in the world boasts more scientific equipment than this dwelling place of the cow.

HE villa of the Wiley R. Reynolds', on the North Ocean Boulevard at Clarke Avenue, is one of the finest examples of Spanish architecture in Palm Beach. Overlooking the ocean, its beautiful green lawns are bordered by rare tropical shrubbery, while the interior, with its small, tiled and cloistered patio and overhanging balcony, which opens from the main entrance, is typically old Spain, as are the furnishings throughout the house.

MIAMI

HE re-opening of Tropical park this week gave new impetus to the racing season which has been one of the most brilliant in the South's history. Preceding the races numbers of luncheon parties took place at the Miami Biltmore and later many returned for cocktails in the famous Cascades room.

The resort program is well-rounded this month with the Florida Year-Round Clubs again setting the pace for sports and social events. Early this week the kiddies who aspire to the mashie and niblick clan were digging up divots in the annual Miami Biltmore Kids' Golf Championship. The golf classic for youngsters attracted a large field.

Now the Miami Biltmore Mixed Doubles Tennis championship is claiming resort interest with many of the northern players in the tournament giving it a national aspect. Among those competing are Dr. and Mrs. Philip B. Hawk of Forest Hills, N. Y., tennis capital of the country. In connection with the tournament are numbers of social events. One of them was a tea dance in the patio of the Miami Biltmore last Sunday, March 7.

During the month a series of aquatic carnivals will enliven the program and toward the end of the month there will be a double-header tournament for men and women golfers of the Florida Year-Round Clubs. The men's event has been scheduled first, taking place March 19 to 24. The Florida Year-Round Clubs Women's Golf championship follows on March 29, continuing on into April, ending on April 3.

Lord and Lady Plunkett of London, who visited Lady Plunkett's mother, Fannie Ward in Palm Beach before coming to Miami, have been guests of the Roney Plaza. They made their headquarters here while taking a short trip to the nearby resorts including Nassau, where they passed several days. Lord and Lady Plunkett are close friends of the present King and Queen of England.

Another titled English couple, who have added much to the social life of Miami and Miami Beach during their visit are Sir Charles and the very attractive Lady Higham.

Lord and Lady Brougham were at the Roney Plaza for a brief holiday also.

General and Mrs. Ivor Thord-Gray are making an extensive cruise this season. The Thord-Garys, who make their home in Greenwich, Connecticut, but who pass a part of nearly every winter at the Roney Plaza, sailed from here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wenner-Gren of Sweden on their palatial yacht, "The Southern Cross." The cruise will first include a scenic circuit of the West Indies and then later "The Southern Cross" will put out in the broad Atlantic, heading for the Mediterrean, where the party will spend most of the spring months, arriving in Sweden in June in time for the Swedish summer festival, justly famous throughout Europe as a gay event.

While most of the colonists mill about this Riviera section, pleasure-seeking from Palm Beach to Nassau and back to Miami again, many others are contented to plan new villas near some tropical scene, where the season may be passed in a round of parties. Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beh of Old Chester, Long Island, who are mulling over plans for a villa on Miami Beach. The Behs built a home on Long Island, where they keep a string of horses, Mrs. Beh's favorite sport being polo.

The farewell appearance of Georges and Jalna, the dancers who were featured in the motion picture, "Born to Dance," was celebrated with a dinner dance at the Roney Plaza. On that occasion a capacity crowd was present.

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra were featured at the tea dance in the palm gardens recently. The occasion was exceedingly gay with some 500 winter colonists attending.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation in Washington, D. C., is passing several days at the Roney Plaza with his assistant, Clyde T. Olson and Guy Hottel, special agent in charge of the Washington field division.

Judge and Mrs. Albert H. Gleason, whose villa in Coral Gables has been the scene of dinner, luncheons and bridge parties during the past fortnight, entertained the past week with a bridge luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maurice of New Rochelle and Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Blood of Park Avenue, New York.

Another event of social interest was the tea at which Mrs. Whiting Paine and her mother, Mrs. Arthur Edmund Whiting, and her daughter, Miss Patricia Paine, entertained March 7, at their home in Coral Gables.

Many new additions have been made to the cabana colony at the Roney Plaza. Among those who have entertained at the club recently were John T. Orr, whose guests were Mrs. A. V. Russell, Mrs. A. W. Fendley, Miss Elaine Fendley, Miss Margery Fendley and Miss Rosemary Fendley, all of Oklahoma City, and Vernon Forcier.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parrillo of Chicago and Long Beach, Ind., gave a party on another occasion and among others noted at the Roney Plaza were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Dresser, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Callowat of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Buhler.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Betan, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Calvert Beaton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Teacher Jones, and others.

of a return to the horse and buggy era, the bicycle craze of another age is definitely with us.

Mrs. Payne Whitney has returned to Miami Beach to remain until the closing of the Miami Jockey Club season. She arrived here from her plantation, Greentree Farms, Thomasville, Ga., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Laughlin, and is at the Nautilus Hotel.

Mrs. Roger Wisner, of New York, and Mrs. Florence Schmeltzer, of Greenwich, Conn., are guests of Mrs. Ernest G. Foster, of Greenwich, aboard the yacht Elgra.

Nearly 500 guests were received Friday at the Committee of 100 clubhouse on the occasion of the annual ladies' day reception. Byron DeWitt Miller, Frank E. Gannett, Dr. John Oliver Lagorce, Harvey Firestone, George Ade, Charles F. Kettering, Dewitt Page and Joseph E. Widener were among the members assisting the house committee as hosts. Rafaelo Diaz sang.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weller, of Brooklyn; Ed Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Allen, Mrs. David Huyler, Mrs. Robert W. Gifford, Mrs. Delos Blodgett, Mrs. H. Strongman Miller, Mrs. James A. Farley and her guest, Beth Leary.

And everybody's here! Surely, there's good factual reason for designating the Miami Biltmore as the

CENTER OF THE WINTERTIME WORLD

Nowhere else in the resort world will you find such accommodations, privileges and facilities for enjoying ALL the fun. At the Miami Biltmore you have not only the refinements of smart living but a complete vacation program to enjoy.

Augmenting the sports and entertainment provided on the hotel estate are the rare privileges of three exclusive sports clubs, upon approval by the membership committee. These clubs are the Miami Biltmore Country Club, Roney Plaza Cabaña Sun Club (Miami Beach) and the Key Largo Anglers Club (on the famous Florida keys). Miami Biltmore guests also have a private transportation system—aerocars running on regular schedules—to take them to all vacation interests in this area, without extra charge.

UNDER THE STARJ

HE soft sheen of green tropical plants; the brilliant hues of flowers—a sparkling sun in the daytime, and soft lighting effects at night, form a setting of beauty that has earned an international reputation for The Patio, where smart members of American and European society, visiting in Palm Beach, gather daily.

One of the most important dinner dances of the season was that given at The Patio by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kahn. In their party, which remained for supper and dancing, were Mrs. Dodge Sloane, the Duke of Sutherland, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. Charles Munn, Countess Edith di Zoppola, Prince Scherbatoff, Mrs. Dorland Doyle, Mrs. John Randolph Hearst.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wolf Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Pershing, Mr. Stewart Scheftel, Mr. Horace Kelland, Mr. Thomas Goodwin, Mr. Edward Reeves, Mr. Daniel Lynch and Mr. M. Seligman.

Gary Cooper, one of the handsomest men on the screen, and his equally charming wife, added their names to the distinguished list of guests who have visited this fashionable rendezvous this season. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper motored from Hobe Sound to Palm Beach and dined at The Patio, and were delighted with the beautiful spot. Al Schacht and Rube Walberg, tops in professional baseball, dined with Dolly Starke, who at one time was the highest paid umpire in either league. $\bullet \quad \bullet \quad \bullet \quad \bullet \quad \bullet$

The Club Madrid is the nightly rendezvous of the smart social set wintering in Palm Beach who are interested in the new and unusual in entertainment. Large dinner parties are nightly occurrences at the club, and the supper hour attracts a host of fashionable patrons who enjoy dancing to the incomparable music of Ray Benson and his orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance Storrs gave a dinner at the club for Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert D. Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warner Clark and their guests, Count and Countess Vincent Orssich, Mrs. Alexander McKay and Mrs. Allen Lindsay and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave H. Rainville were hosts at one of the largest parties at the club on a recent Saturday night. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. McMartin, who are with them for a visit; Mr. and Mrs. Messmore Kendall and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cutler, Miss Leonora Hyatt and Mr. Carmen Messmore; Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson Fenton and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schoelkopf Schmidt; Mrs. Richard Davidson, Mrs. Ernest Savard, Miss Cordelia Gurnee and Paul Bancroft, Jr.

Your game no better than your ball

Think of that when the ball you've picked on hunch, impulse or hearsay falls short of those needed, sweet extra yards and when an easy putt wobbles wide of the pin.

Play Safe this year.. Play
The Balanced '37
SILVER KING

The perfection of this great ball is no accidental thing. From its "fixed" center to its tough, long life, vulcanized cover.. it has been carefully co-ordinated with every phase of the modern game.

THE BALANCED '37 SILVER KING

GOES A LONG WAY TO SAVE A STROKE

Play Silver King for extra yardage..accuracy in putting..uniformity of play. Play three. See what they do for your game.

BROILING

Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING

Gas gives you the oven yentilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that "steamed flavor."

BAKING

Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!

FRYING

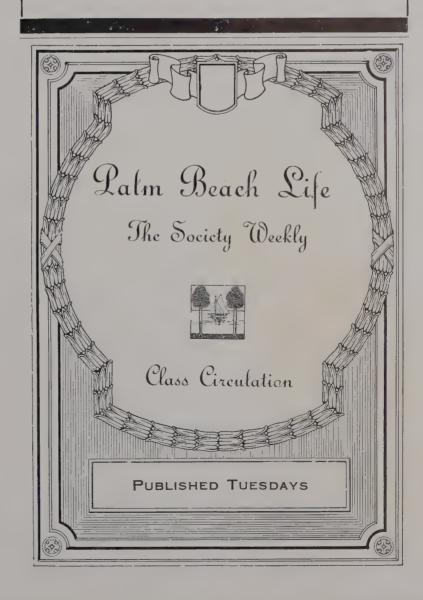

Perfect, speedy frying requires instant high heat —even spread of heat under the skillet numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!

BOILING

Faster! Gas brings foods to a boil in 1/3 the time or less of other fuels. More flexible, it gives you the exact shades of heat you need.

"Where Shall We Stop On Our Way Home?"

If only all problems were so easily solved! For 40 years it has been the smart tradition for returning visitors to stop at Pinehurst, on U. S. Route 1, or readily reached by the Seaboard Air Line.

Pinehurst is 650 feet above sea level, among the long leaf pines. The winter climate is kindly, never too warm or too cool, and practically every day permits full enjoyment of golf (on courses with marvelous grass greens), tennis, riding, fox hunting, polo and shooting.

Moderate hotel rates. Selected clientele. For booklet PB—write to Pinehurst, Inc., Pinehurst, N. C.

-- Wherever else you stop include the Cavalier!

There are many delightful stop-overs on the way North, and among them is The Cavalier, 312 miles south of New York. Take the Ocean Highway via Norfolk and Virginia Beach, avoiding all city traffic. Your Seaboard ticket is good via Norfolk.

Our winter weather is really that of early spring. Golf on two 18-hole courses, tennis, riding, every day, and freshwater and deep-sea fishing. Our clientele is carefully selected—the best Palm Beach type. Winter rates are lowest of all the year.

Early spring and The Cavalier welcomes you here!

AVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"

NASSAU ...old in its scenes new in its pleasures

From the grey old fortress on the hill to the native market-place, from the quaint streets and picturesque quayfront to the vivid, crystal beauty of the tropic seas, Nassau today is the same colourful West Indies capital that first enchanted smart visitors from America and England. But Nassau today has many new pleasures: complete sports facilities, brilliant social diversions . . . and the splendid comforts of the British Colonial Hotel, towering above the most interesting quarter of the Old World city from a spacious estate on the harbour-front, overlooking the sea.

Because of favourable local duties, Nassau's shops offer imported wares at remarkable economies and shopping for London and Paris treasures is part of the fun of your Nassau holiday. The sophisticated pleasures of the casino, horse racing at a mile track, surfing and sunning on reef-sheltered beaches, golf on a 27-hole seaside course . . . are among the island's resort diversions. The British Colonial Hotel estate includes swimming pool, tennis courts, private yacht landing and the celebrated Marine Grill, center of Nassau's night-life.

Overnight by sea from Miami, or two hours via daily airliner—2½ days by direct ship from New York. For literature, hotel reservations, etc., address: British Colonial Booking Director, P. O. Box 548, Coral Gables, Miami, Florida—the New York office at 521 Fifth Ave. (Suite 1238-41)—or the Chicago office at 180 N. Michigan Ave. (Suite 615).

CRUISE TO ADVENTURE

Nassau, capital of England's treasure island colony, is more inviting this year than ever—from its fascinating Old World shops to the sophisticated pleasures of the casino . . . from its fashionable resort-life to its reef-sheltered beaches. This wonderful adventure is one gala night's sail from Miami via the famous British cruise ship New Northland . . . make your reservations today!

"SOME OF MY WINTER HOLIDAY IS GOING HOME WITH ME"

"Some outside tan, some inside peace and health are going back up north with me when my holiday is over. But there's something else I got down here that's going to last me lots longer—something that made Florida more delightful this year than ever—I mean my new 1937 Packard!"

Probably nothing can start your Florida holiday so excitingly, carry you through it so happily, and fill your home journey with such deep satisfaction as the new Packard we'd like to deliver to your door.

Why don't you pay us a visit—right away—and make your choice among the many new models we have on display, including what are probably the world's smartest fair-weather body types?

Don't forget that the finest of service departments is equipped to keep every Packard in Florida in perfect condition.

P. S. to Packard owners—Our service department is tuned up and ready to give you quick action—to help you get the utmost pleasure out of your car during your Florida vacation.

FASHION FORECASTS FOR SDRING

LTHOUGH some of the birds are winging their way northward and the shops have begun to assemble their suits and dresses for travel, the season bids fair to extend far into the late spring, for who wishes to leave the sunshine, the lovely tropical moonlight nights, and exquisite flowers, in full bloom, to brave the cutting winds of March and the chilling rains which are bound to come in April.

So, for those who do stay on until it is really warm in the north, there are almost daily arrivals at the many exclusive shops, of more and more intriguing and delightfully feminine frocks, gowns and beach wear, and the replenishing of the wardrobe which has grown slightly shabby during this gay season, will be a very casy matter.

If you are looking for something knitted in beige and navy, Mrs. Franklin, Inc., has just the thing. It has a blouse of beige string, rather loosely knitted, with long sleeves and a high neckline. The skirt is of navy eponge and the belt is one of those clever imported ones of grosgrain ribbon, which is red, with a geometrical design of the grosgrain, in navy. A red hat of toyo, and red bag would be stunning with it.

And getting back to those grosgrain belts, it would be a mistake to not have several of them, because Mrs. Franklin has them in such nice color combinations, and they go with most any sport dress, and are especially nice to wear with slacks or shorts.

Something else very new, is a hand painted silk jersey evening gown silk jersey evening gown. There are large bunches of field flowers in egg yellow, blue, cerise, and purple, with green leaves, scattered over it, and it has a low decolletage in back, with a zipper fastening, and a softly draped cowl in front. The little jacket which goes with it, is a long rectangular piece of the material doubled, with slits for the arms. It looks very simple off, and on,—drapes delightfully.

Versatility should be its name and it can be found at Turner Gowns, on Worth Avenue. There is a short fitted coat, the yoke which is collarless, has stitched revers and a Schiaparelli yoke in the back, and by the way, the yoke and sleeves are lined with taffeta. Large mother of pearl buttons fasten it from top to bottom and trim the long sleeves. The skirt is straight and slim and with it is a blouse of blue and white striped taffeta, with a little turn back collar and tabs of pique. The fourth piece is a three quarter box coat, with large patch pockets and a very lovely white wolf collar.

Another exceptionally lovely suit at Turner Gowns, for cruise wear, is a San Marco blue in a Rodier wool. The coat is quite short, in cardigan style, and the belt, collar and cuffs are cartridge stitched. The blouse is of Cathay blue in a kash> mir wool, with a frilled treatment of white pique, and the skirt is on very slender lines.

At Jean King's there are very versatile things in knit wear. For instance, one three-piece suit with a plaid cape in white and scottie green. It has full shoulders, a turn back collar, and is fastened with link buttons. The coat is one of the new boxey types, in the plaid, is belted with a standing tie collar and flap pockets. The skirt is of solid scottie green, in zephr wool and is gored and slightly flared.

Another very useful and attractive one piece dress of rice tweed, has padded shoulders, short sleeves, turn back collar and flap pockets piped in wine. The skirt is gored and has a slight flare, and the belt is of wine, with suede ties and tassels.

One nice thing about Jean King is, that she will make hats and bags to match any dress or suit, or to contrast with them in plaid or plain colors. These hats can be had either in a beret type, or with brims.

Saks Fifth Avenue Shop always have an intriguing lot of costume jewelry, and among the newest things are bracelets and necklaces which have a riot of colors in many tiny round bakelite pieces, which are linked on. The most appropriate name for this jewelry would seem to be poker chip. many tiny round bakelite pieces, which are linked on. The most appropriate name for this jewelry would seem to be poker chip.

Among the many suits assembled for spring and sports wear at Aiken or Asheville, is one of dusty pink and navy wool jersey. The skirt has slender lines and is of the navy, as is the scarf, while the coat is of the dusty pink. It is collarless, has padded shoulders, small slit pockets and a narrow belt.

A suit which will be just the thing for many occasions besides travel, is one at Saks of rodier wool in a cocoa color. The skirt is gored in front and the coat is hip length, with a narrow string collar and belt. There are unusual carved buttons, slit pockets which are scalloped, and a chiffon scarf in a Persian design, lends just the proper note of color..

Helen Heller is assembling her going home clothes, and has in her collection, a number of lovely things which are appropriate for wear here during the last few weeks of the season, and especially nice to have for early spring in the north. One of them is a suit in a chamois color silk crepe, which has a finely tucked skirt, slightly flaring, and a short fitted coat, with a peplum which flares out perkily in the back. It is belted in front, has a flat tucked collar, which is fashioned with a series of points, as are the simulated slanting pockets.

Along evening lines, is a gown of royal blue marquisette, which is embroidered in white in a combination of bands which fold to a square back V. decolletage in front. There are tiny should straps, and the skirt is tightly fitted at the hips, with a flare at the hemline. The accompanying cape of the same material, is circular, and distinguished by shoulder fullness.

Helen Heller also has a three piece ensemble in natural kasha, which by the way, is very prominent as a style note for spring. There is a fitted jacket, with the new padded shoulders, long sleeves, a string collar and a dog collar belt. The skirt is straight, with a front kick plait. The very useful cape, also features the padded shoulder, is three quarter length, has slits for the arms, and a turn back collar.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond

You will be sure to look fetching in a three piece suit at Foulke and Foulke's which is of homespun. The skirt is navy and gored, and the short jacket is a luscious shade of American Beauty. It is fitted, buttons the entire length, has a small collar and revers, and patch pockets. A blue and red chiffon scarf is an attractive note, as is the full length cape of the navy, which has padded shoulders.

A lovely dress with a three quarter coat, which is adapted to the more mature figure, and ideal for cruise wear, is a gray blue rather coarse crepe. The dress has short sleeves, a V neck, with a hand-drawn design on the blouse, resembling punch work. A loop trim adds to the interesting detail. The coat, which is extremely handsome, has long raglan sleeves, with a shawl collar of slate blue fox.

Unusual also, at Foulke and Foulke's, are the brocaded pouch bags, with their long clip fastenings. One especially lovely one has a clip of rubies and rhinestones. Also outstanding, is an aquamarine and rhinestone clip, which is an exact duplicate of one set with real stones, and can scarcely be distinguished from it.

The Jonas Shop is showing for spring and travel wear, a new red shade called Sardonyx, and a coat of this shade is very striking when worn over a dress with a black crepe skirt and a blouse of printed crepe.

And featuring beige, they also have a jacket in a pale shade, which smoothly wraps around, and is worn over a black wool dress, with one of those graceful swing skirts.

Very enchanting too for cocktails either here or in the north, is a Jonas creation in a print, with a modern motif of black, red and white. It is cut on very slim lines and cloaked from shoulders to hem with a fitted coat or shirred net.

When one thinks of Hattie Carnegie, the picture brought to mind is that her gowns and frocks are always distinctive and beautiful, but what of her hats and other accessories. One exceptionally new hat is of cork, the entire facing under the wide drooping brim being of felt of the same shade. It has a high peaked crown and the only trim is a band of grosgrain ribbon.

A dark blue hat of linen straw, which would be ideal for travel, has a flat squarish crown, a chin strap and a blue ribbon trim on the crown.

A becoming little piece of headgear of white toyo, is mushroom shaped, with a narrow black ribbon trim around the crown, and a tailored bow and two perky white birds perched up in front.

SQUARE CROWN BERET, KNIT MATERIAL WITH CHIFFON SCARF, FROM JEAN KING.

Most important to know also, is that bags which are custom made in Hattie Carnegie's own workroom, can be had to accompany any costume.

And there is costume jewelry for every occasion, whether it be pearls with many strands, or beads in gay combinations of color, also with many strands, for beach or sport wear. It goes without saying that there are matching bracelets.

Accessories such as cigarette lighters of alligator and pigskin come in all shapes and sizes, one of which is a combination lighter and case and has a small watch on the cover. A turtle bracelet, would make a typically Floridian gift, when the task of finding precisely the proper things to take to one's northern friends begins.

And for wear right now, at Aiken in a few weeks, or under a coat in the north, are the new knitted dresses and sweaters at Hattie Carnegie's. One two piece knitted dress, has a jacket blouse, which is in a coarse design, has a roll collar and patch pockets, matching the plainly knitted skirt. Dark blue leather buttons fasten the blouse.

Bonwit-Teller has anticipated the needs of those who stop at White Sulphur, Pinehurst, or in fact any of the half-way stops between here and the north, by selecting an original Kosta de War hand knit model in a lovely shade of turquoise. It is one piece and the design is a shell stitch. There are two breast pockets and hip pockets, a roll collar, and the link fastenings are of metal in cylinder shapes with dangling yarn tassels. The belt and matching turban carry the same decorative trim.

After all, the season will not be over for some fortunate persons for weeks and weeks and so Bonwit Teller is also showing a lovely fashion particularly designed for southern wear, to wit, the house and garden house-coat of nosegay glazed chintz. It has a very full skirt, and tightly fitted bodice, with short puffed sleeves, either a frill at the neck-line, or a turn back V collar.

Acajou sandals, bags, belts and hats are outstandingly new at this versatile shop, and Balberian costume jewelry in necklaces and bracelets, which are formed of large, crystal looking glass links. Star sapphires and rhinestones also fashion very chic pins, clips, ear-rings, necklaces and bracelets.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Peck and Peck are featuring new things in anticipation of a long season and for mid-summer in the north. Among them is a three piece play suit, imported from Japan, which is pure silk in white. There is a tailored shirt, with turn back collar and revers, shorts, and a button down the front skirt, and they are all piped in either navy, wine, or brown, or if preferred, can be had in all white.

Very clever as well as smart are the Dude Ranch slacks which come in faded blue, red and quarter deck, of twilled cotton, and are made with large patch pockets which are stitched in a diamond shaped pattern.

A fitted beach coat, which has a flared back, large revers and puffed sleeves, is in white cotton with a red design in tropical motifs. There is a tricky bathing suit of the same material to match it.

Jay Thorpe is showing for mid-northern wear, a handsome sport dress in a novelty striped knit, which is topped by a little wide-shouldered blue jacket, fastening snugly down the center.

Another interesting costume consists of culottes of navy jersey which are piped around the collarless neck, with a cherry red. There are slashed pockets, and a wide red belt with an anchor trim. A double breasted eton jacket of cherry red jersey goes with these culottes, which has padded shoulders, slashed pockets and a narrow roll collar.

A two piece dress in a carnival print with a smoke gray background, has a gored skirt, with shirred hip pockets, the blouse featuring the same shirred pockets. The collar and revers are stitched, the sleeves short, and the scarf which completes this attractive print, is of chiffon, in red and green.

For town, travel or country, Vincent and Co., at Main Street and the County Road, are showing an unusually fine selection of both imported and domestic materials for custom made suits and coats, which are executed in their Palm Beach work rooms. Their custom made hats and imported models are also an item not to be forgotten.

One of the loveliest suit models on display is of an imported French material, called roiscra, and is in a crushed raspberry shade. It has a one piece dress with a swing skirt, a high pointed collar and scarf tie and long sleeves. The belt is of the material cartridge stitched. The coat is three quarter length, very simply tailored, with a cartridge trim on the standing collar, down the front and around the bottom. The shoulders are padded, the sleeves long and plain and there are slashed pockets.

Among the hat models is a stunning small tricorne model in black straw, with a single rose perched on top of the crown, a band in the back to slip over the hair, and a tiny veil.

For wear right now, or later, in the north, Kerman's Palm Beach Shop, at the County Road and Sunset Avenue, have a lovely evening gown of soft gray marquisette, which has a flared skirt, and a blouse with a low decolletage, narrow shoulder straps and a beautiful lei of flowers fashioned of chartreuse marquisette. A long circular cape and scarf of the chartreuse marquisette, complete a very charming costume.

A travel dress of navy crepe, has a slightly flared skirt, a blouse with short sleeves and a surplice neckline finished with a corsage of garden flowers. The little eton jacket which goes with it, is edged with a plaited frill of white organza and daisy medallions.

Polo cloth fashions a beautiful full length coat for cool spring days, which is a steel blue, the coat itself stitched vertically at about two inch intervals from shoulder to hem. A boat shaped collar of gray fox further adds to the loveliness of this coat.

Mme. Fahda Jabaly, at 247 County Road, although she still has exquisite things for Palm Beach wear, is assembling her travel clothes, among them being a very luxurious long coat in a rodier fabric of beige. It is fitted and flared and has a very beautifully marked, boat shaped collar of badger. Mme. Jabaly is very discriminating in her selection of furs, having the skins marked with her name immediately when they are purchased, leaving no chance of a mistake in her choice.

Interesting is a travel suit, which is made from an Italian shawl. It has a small conventional shell design in gray and white, and the skirt is on the new swing lines. The jacket is fitted, has long sleeves and padded shoulders, is collarless, has revers and fastens with red buttons. A white pique vest, with a narrow string tie, and small red buttons add to the attractiveness of the suit.

A double faced crinkled crepe in navy and white with a tiny flower pot design, is used for a three piece spring suit, the skirt and coat made of the navy with white flower pots, and the blouse of the white side, with blue flower pots. The skirt is gored and the coat is the new box type, with long cuffless sleeves and padded shoulders. The blouse has short sleeves, a slashed collar and blue buttons. There is also a patent leather belt, with the buckle in a waffle design.

The approach of spring is also evidenced in the new things which Henri Bendel, at 239 County Road, is showing, and a one piece dress of beige in wool poplin, is exceedingly interesting because of its simplicity. The skirt is slimly fitting, with a kick plait in front, and the blouse has a most graceful line formed by three horizontal tucks in front. There are two loose folds in the back which extend from the shoulder to the waistline, the sleeves are long, and there is a removable pointed collar of white pique. The belt, which is brown, features clock numerals.

Gray rodier wool fashions a fitted coat. It has padded shoulders, a plain yoke in the back, and the front ends in stitched scallops at the shoulder seam. Two scalloped breast pockets are formed from pieces which extend to the waistline and below it widen into folds which give a front fullness to the skirt of the coat. Small gores in front also add to the attractive detail.

Featuring copies of lovely French models, Agnes Diamond in Phipps Plaza on the County Road, has an evening gown in a lipstick red chiffon which is a Lelong copy. It has fitted hips with gathered fullness both in front and in the back, and the surplice blouse forms a low V decolletage. The short sleeves are slightly mutton leg in shape, and shirred at the shoulders.

A Molyneaux copy and one of the newest, is a white tailored dinner gown in chiffon, with red polka dots. The skirt is circular and flared and extends to an empire waistline. There is a tiny standing collar and wide revers which extend to the high waistline. The sleeves are short and shirred at the shoulders.

Madame Najla Mogabgab, in her lovely Salon in The Breakers Hotel, has assembled for spring and travel wear, very distinctive suits and frocks, one model being especially charming and designed by Madame Mogabgab herself. It is a bolero redingote type, and can be ordered in any color, or combination of colors. One very lovely model is in dubonnet, the coat being in the plain color and the dress in a print featuring an old fashioned garden. The redingote, has the bolero effect both in the front and back, or for a more slenderizing effect, has a straight back and bolero front, with a skirt which wraps around and has either a one button, or three button fastening. It is collarless and has two pockets on the jacket and two on the skirt.

Another lovely costume for travel is of a rodier sheer wool in navy. There is a one piece dress, the skirt slightly flared, and the blouse has tucks to a yoke effect, which give it a very chic and slender effect. The sleeves are short and the collar narrow, with a string tie. The short, fitted coat has an exceptionally flattering fox collar, which frames the face in a circle effect.

Beautifully tailored, is a suit of navy wool in a fleur de lis design, which has one of the new short box coats, in wool, a turn back collar and small revers, and padded shoulders. The skirt is gracefully flared by means of godets, and the blouse is of white silk pique, very tailored and with a turn back collar fastened by a tiny formal bow.

AIR SERVICE, MIAMI TO JAMAICA

WING to the rapidly increasing popularity of tropical Jamaica among North American tourists, particularly those who gather in thousands in Florida during the winter season, the Pan American Airways System inaugurated a special experimental service between Miami and Kingston on Thursday, February 11.

This new Miami-Kingston air passenger service is in addition to the regular twice-weekly trips made between these ports for the past seven years. It is also in addition to the regular route operated from Jamaica eastward through the West Indies by way of Santiago, Cuba, and Port au Prince, Haiti.

Only five and a half hours between Miami and Kingston will be required on the new schedules, which it is expected will remain in effect until approximately the end of the month of March. The giant Clippers on this run will shoot straight as an arrow direct to the famous little island in the Caribbean sea, hopping over Cuba enroute.

The new experimental trips were made by Pan American's newest type of high-speed, deluxe, 4-engined Clippers of the refined and advance design known as the Sikorsky "42B." These ships are the largest and swiftest commercial aircraft in the world, with the expection of the flying boats of the China Clipper type now used in Pan American's trans-Pacific service.

The clipper ships on the new schedule depart from Miami at 9:30 a.m., arriving at Kingston at three o'clock the same afternoon. The return trip from Kingston to Miami now made the following morning, Friday, at eight o'clock, with arrival in Miami at 1:30 in the afternoon. The service between the two ports, now made more than ever

"Pan American Airways is keenly interested in the growing importance of Jamaica as a center of travel and trade in the Caribbean area and in its possibilities in the future," said Mr. Dobbs. "The company's desire to cooperate closely with the colonial government and the Jamaica Tourist Board in developing these possibilities and in fostering greater tourist trade, formed the basis of the decision to inaugurate this special, direct service in order to determine what such a service can do toward furthering the interests of all concerned. We are glad that we are in a position at the present time to provide the equipment and operating personnel necessary to carry on this trial service in addition to the many other air mail, passenger and express routes operated from Miami throughout the West Indies, Central and South America, together with two extra daily schedules now being operated by clipper ships between Miami and Havana and, for ing the winter season by Pan American's publicity organization in Miami.

"Let's have dinner in Puerto Rico tomorrow night."

Tourists lazing around the golden strand at Miami Beach in late afternoon are often saying this, and doing it. It can be done even in New York or Washington.

In the latter case you would simply take the night plane of Eastern Air Lines, travel from snow to sunshine overnight, breakfast in Miami, have luncheon over Haiti in a Pan American, wider than Pullman car Clipper ship, and at five in the afternoon there you are in old San Juan, 1200 miles down the West Indies from Miami, 2400 miles from New York.

Off from beautiful Biscayne Bay of a bright morning at 7:45, you cross the blue Gulf Stream to the colorful northern coast of Cuba and come to earth in the wide harbor of Port au Prince, Haiti, at noon. Off again after a quick onceover of this tropical town, you pass over the green valleys of the mysterious isle and pause again in the Caribbean coast of the Dominican Republic at San Pedro de Macoris near old Santo Domingo, founded by Columbus, and where they claim his brave bones still lie in his own ancient cathedral.

Another short stretch over the Mona Passage and Puerto Rico lies before you. The Clipper cuts the waters of San Juan harbor at exactly 6:15. There's time for a day light drive around the old town and a call on the spirit of old Ponce de Leon before dark, and dinner at the spacious Condado-Vanderbilt hotel, where dancing, cocktails, a casino and swimming pool offer every luxury.

Puerto Rico, "Garden Spot of the Atlantic," is really a sunny tropical paradise with fine old Spanish drives through the green mountains and valleys. San Juan is full of foreign and historical, as well as human, interest.

The Clippers, making three round weekly trips from Miami, are now carrying hundreds of Florida's winter visitors to Puerto Rico.

EVERGLADES CLUB IN MID-SEASON FORM

ARCH finds the Everglades Club breasting the social stream with all the vigor and dash noted in midseason. The re-established social center with its distinguished membership and board of Governors formed from the key figures in the life of the colony continues to be

Concerts ranging from the classical beauty of the Stradivarius Quartet to the more robust artistry of Paul Whiteman in his recent charity presental have brought out hundreds of members and guests of the club. Special entertainment features such as the recent ingeneous and hilarious Wheelchair derby; the phenomenal Backgammon Tournaments; brilliant style shows which seem to become more interesting as the season progresses and a host of social functions continue to attract mid-season crowds of socialites to the famous social center.

The private concert given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dillman for two hundred of their friends at the club with beautiful Lucretia Bori as the star marked a return to the Palm Beach scene of the traditionally beautiful private concerts of the early days on the island.

Visiting British Noblemen, who wished to pay their social obligations to their Palm Beach hosts, selected the Everglades Club as a fitting background for their dinner party.

The Earl of Sefton, Viscount Richard Adare, Captain the Hon. Charles Winn and Captain the Hon. Lionel Montagu were hosts recently at a dinner and dance for a distinguished assemblage which included: The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Loening, Mr. and Mrs. Amory W. Carhart, Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Austen Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry Ryan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Legendre, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. L. Meade Barr, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice.

Also Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kahn, the Countess of Abingdon, the Duchess of Sutherland, Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Viscountess Adare, Mrs. Harold S. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mrs. John Hearst, Mrs. Winston Guest, Mrs. Robert G. Payne, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Mrs. John Gaston, Countess Edith di Zoppola, Miss Dorothy R. Fell, the Misses Muriel and Dorothy Richards, Miss Louise Iselin, Miss Grace Munn Amory.

Other guests were Miss Joan Peabody, Miss Sally Ann Chapman, Mr. Robert E. Strawbridge Jr., Mr. Morris Legendre, Mr. George Abbott, the Hon. Peter Beatty, Baron Paul Schell, Mr. Francis Warren Pershing, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Milton W. Holden, Mr. Lytle Hull, Mr. John Sanford, Mr. Jules S. Bache, Mr. Tommy Goodwin, Mr. Frederick S. Allen, Mr. Edward McIlvain, Mr. Peter A. B. Widener 2nd, Brig. Gen. Critchley, Count von Bendern, Mr. James W. Burden, Mr. John Garrett, Mr. Douglas W. Paige and Mr. Stuart Scheftel.

Large and beautifully arranged parties have been the order of the day at the Everglades Club since the inception of the season. With the thousands of fragrant and colorful flowers grown in the Everglades Club's gardens this year, available for decorating the various tea, dinner and supper parties; the green and russet beauty of the Orange Gardens, the soft gray symphony of the Gray Room and the magnificent dining-room have been more attractive than ever before.

Among those who have entertained for brilliant gatherings at the club are Mrs. Brokaw Dugmore, whose dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. McMaster Mills was very attractive and Mrs. LeBrun Rhinelander, who was a charming hostess at tea in the club for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Townsend Stotesbury, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mr. Elwood Rice, who has become one of Palm Beach's most famous hosts gave another of his celebrated parties at the Everglades Club recently for fifty of his friends in the colony. The Orange Gardens furnished the background for this affair and one of south Florida's incredible sunsets turned the gathering into a sunset party.

"The Cowers"

R. JOHN L. VOLK, as architect, has ingeniously contrived to transform the interior of "The Towers," Palm Beach residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent on North Ocean Boulevard, from a rather gloomy Spanish fortress to a graciously sunlit villa of modern classic architecture.

In the air-view above of the commanding situation of this villa it is interesting to note the generally unsuspected existence of an inland lake between North Ocean Boulevard and the lake front.

The center illustration of the drawing room clearly exemplifies Mr. Volk's conception of a modern classic interior designed for gracious living. In the background can be seen the entrance to the loggia, pictured below, with classic archs allowing the Florida sunshine to glorify the interior and at the same time permitting a sweeping view of the broad Atlantic across a terrace bathed in sunshine kept crystal clear by southerly trade winds.

TOUCH of the primeval is found in the "Garden of Gods." Grotesque growths with all of the eerie and forbidding charm of a pre-historic jungle vie with tranquil scenes displaying all of the pastoral charm of a story out of the Arabian Nights. These pictures might well have been taken in the wilds of Africa or some other isolated wilderness. From scenes like these one happens upon lovely sylvan dells where the fanciful find little difficulty in visualizing all of the characters in ancient Greek mythology.

N IDYLLIC fairyland of placid glades, winding paths cut through incredibly beautiful tropical foliage and vistas which make it easy to believe that one is really visiting the enchanted "Garden of the Gods."

Thousands of exotic flowers, including zinnias, gerbas, gladioli and a host of other lovely blooms lend fragrance and beauty to this Tropical Paradise.

BEACH PANORAMA

F THE winter visitors and residents aren't going to stay through April at least they give every indication of staying through March. The many beaches are still crowded with bronzed groups of sun bathers and swimmers and luncheon time finds the inviting buffet very busy. The informality of a beach luncheon is particularly intriguing and the gay hues of the beach are a panoramic picture long carried in the memory of the winter sojourner when he has left for the North.

The Bath and Tennis Club has been coming in for its share of delightful beach buffet luncheons. Mr. and Mrs. Lammot duPont have been daily luncheon hosts at the club for their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. David Houston, Mr. and Mrs. David Foster and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jessup. Mr. and Mrs. H. Mitchell Harper entertained recently for Mrs. Ken-

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Quinn were the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Geddes. Mr. Carman Messmore was host to a party which included Count and Countess Vincent Orssich, Miss Lea Highet and Mr. F. Homer Smith. Mrs. John H. Wright entertained at a luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howland Graham, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Huntley, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Youngs, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thomas, Mrs. Alfred D. Bell, Mrs. Harold Godwin and Mrs. Stuart Logan.

Mr. Esmond Paul O'Brien was host to a luncheon group which included Mrs. Julian McCarty Little, Mrs. Osgood Field Hoving, Mr. Sidney J. Colford and Mr. Seth Sprague. Col. Chauncey B. Humphrey entertained for a party which included Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. John Gates, Jr., Miss Sylvia Hillhouse, Mrs. Norine Rogers, Col. Paul S. Bliss, Col. W. S. Guignard and Mr. Charles B. Hillhouse. Col. Owen Hill Kenan entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Laurence C. Fuller. Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hutton were hosts to Mrs. Lawson and Mr. Howard C. Brokaw.

There is no diminishing in the popularity of the Sea Spray Club as the season advances, for almost daily, new names are being added to the list of members. Enthusiasm for the sports which include both the older and younger generation, is as noticeable as ever and the recent tennis tournament for boys and girls, was attended by a large number of the parents, members and guests. The finals which were played on Saturday, March 6, were won by Leila Chadbourne and Vincent Fotre, Jr.

The beach and pool are constantly filled with gay groups, as is the awning-covered dining terrace during the luncheon hours. Among members and guests who took advantage of the sunny hours at Sea Spray in the past few days were Mrs. Edwin P. Price and Miss Frances Price, Mrs. Fitch Andrews and Miss Doris Andrews, Mrs. Gurnee Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Woolworth, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Hellyer, Mrs. Stanley A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Horace O. Swimming weather has been ideal of late and one of the most popular and attractive spots in the resort in which to bathe is the Breakers Cabana Club. The surf has lapsed into comparative calm which is pleasing to the scores of folks who prefer ocean swimming although the pool at the Cabana Club comes into its own share of popularity daily.

Mrs. Reed Albee of the Cottage Colony has paid visits to the Breakers Cabana Club during the past weeks.

Among the younger set who are noted daily at the pool or lounging on the sands are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Miss Doris Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mallory, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sills and Mr. and Mrs. William Sills, 2nd.

Recently spectators at the pool were thrilled by the remarkable demonstration of swimming revealed by Mrs. Martha Norelius Wright, Mrs. Charlotte Boyle Klune and Miss Helen Meaney, all former Olympic champions.

Occupying their cabanas daily are Mr. Arthur Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Robertson and their daughter, Mimi Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Alan MacIntosh, Miss Elsie Gioletti and Mrs. Genevieve Condit. Col. Alexander Gray has been their guest.

Watchers at the pool have been greatly interested during the season in observing the progress of the children who have been learning to swim under Mr. Charles Norelius. Among the children whose parents are guests at the hotels or members of the Cottage Colony are Joyce and Edna Skelton, Janet Langtry, Downes Mallory, Charles Morgan, Gloria Arnold, Mimi Reed, Patricia Hurley and Eric Dunn.

The Sun and Surf Club, which is the popular rendezvous not only for prominent members of the cottage colony, but for notable personages of the stage, screen and of radio, is one of the colorful spots in the resort. The cabanas, which are gaily striped in the brightest of red, blue and yellow, with their cozy little porches, line the beach, and congenial groups are seen daily lunching and chatting there.

Recent arrivals at the club include Mr. and Mrs. Ercole Marchisio, from New York City; Miss Virginia Romer, New York City; Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Dixon, Rockville Center, Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Meyer, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Bart J. Ruddy, Utica, N. Y.; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hyland, St. Louis; Mr. C. A. Lamp, St. Louis; Mrs. Irving Netcher (Constance Talmadge), Beverley Hills; Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George Magner, Chicago; Mr.

SOCIETY BASEBALL—TENNIJ—GOLF

TAGING a hitting spree in the final two innings and garnering eight runs, Woolworth Donahue's New Yorkers came from behind to defeat Milton Holden's Philadelphia team by the final score of 9 to 4, in the Twenty-Seventh Annual Society Ball Game.

This annual affair held for the benefit of the Palm Beach Police Pension Fund netted a total of $450 and furnished a thrilling contest with many humorous highlights.

With the grandstand packed and many sitting on the ground, Connie Lewis, veteran umpire, introduced Al Schacht, famous baseball comedian. Al gave his impression of Helen Wills in a championship tennis match and followed this with an imitation of a pitcher in a world series game.

Following this, Mr. E. T. Stotesbury followed the annual custom of tossing in the first ball, and the game was on.

The New Yorkers came up to the bat but Earl Blair was the only one to make a base hit in the first inning, before the tricky ball of Bill Kohler, crack moundsman from the Seaspray Beach Club. None other than Dolly Starke, famous big league umpire, went into the box for the Phillies and fanned the first three up in one, two, three fashion, to retire the side.

In the second inning Mc-Lain walked and Lord Adare, who had never seen a ball game before, much less played in one, got his cricket eye on the ball and made a beautiful single. Dolly Starke then hit a hot liner and His Lordship went to second, with McLain on third. Bob Rasmussen then lined out another single to bring in McLain, while right behind came Lord Adare. He ambled in with a smile on his face and eevrybody seemed very happy until it suddenly occurred to his teammates that M'Lord had not touched the home plate. Back to the plate scurried His Lordship but Homer Large, Phillie catcher, got there first and he was out.

Rodney de Heeren, Philadelphia shortstop, proved the "Babe Ruth" of the day when he hit a beautiful one to the tall and uncut in the second inning to make the only home run of the game and even the count on the scoreboard.

The next two innings were a pitchers' duel with both sides garnering goose-eggs. Jay O'Brien, playing center field for the Philadelphia team, made the most spectacular catch of the day in the third when he caught Jack Blair's fly and went end over end, clutching the "ovoid sphere," for an out tally.

The Philadelphians started on a hitting spree in the fifth with Jay O'Brien clouting out a fielder's choice while Harry Rosenthal played "My Wild Irish Rose" on his little pianc. Bill Borman, the "town constable's son," lined out a two-bagger. Bill Kohler, Phillie pitcher, then whipped one down the first base line, stretched it into a three-bagger, bringing in Borman and O'Brien. Homer Large got his eye on another and brought Kohler home to make the tally three and put them that much in the lead.

In the New Yorkers' turn at the bat, Lord Adare, much wiser than before, reached up in the clouds and put one right through the legs of the short-fielder for another single (not bad for an amateur). His joy was short-lived, however, for the side was retired and he evidently got enough of the "silly game," for Dolly replaced him in the next inning and Wert took the mound.

FORMING THE ORIGINAL PHILADELPHIA BATTERY OF THE FIRST SOCIETY BALL GAME, HELD TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO, ARE MR. EDWARD CROZER, PITCHER; MR. EDWARD T. STOTESBURY, UMPIRE, AND MR. LAWRENCE FULLER, CATCHER, WHO MET AGAIN THIS SEASON WHILE VIEWING THE GAME AT POINCIANA FIELD.

The sixth and seventh innings were goose-eggs, with Kohler pitching as fine a ball game as ever was seen on the famous old Poinciana Field and Wert doing nobly for the New Yorkers.

In the eighth inning, however, with Kohler electing to stay the limit, his fielders cracked and the rally began. The New Yorkers scored four runs before they were finally retired, and returned again in the ninth to duplicate the feat, much to the chagrin of the Philadelphians who couldn't get by third.

On the Philadelphia aggregation de Heeren and O'Brien played stand-out games with Bill Borman snagging some hot ones at the crucial moment. Bill Kohler easily won the laurels as the outstanding moundsman of the day, so much so in fact that Wooley has already chosen him for his side next year. Milton Holden, dapper captain of his team, executed a smart double play with Wolcott Blair and both were right in there fighting all the way. Homer Large, in the catcher's position, did a noble job with Ray Benson and Al Schacht giving the best they had along with Leon and Finn. And Count Von Pelt and the Earl of Sefton learned much about the great American game.

With the New Yorkers, Lord Adare proved the hero of the day by batting a thousand per cent in his two appearances at the plate; Bob Rasmussen covering third like a veteran, the Blair boys playing their usual peerless game even though they had just gotten out of bed from the flu. Dolly Stark proved as fine a pitcher as he was umpire, with McLain stopping practically all of them at the plate, and Wert held the opposition scoreless in the final frames. Captain Donahue proved himself a Napoleon in directing his winning team, while Brown, Bassett and Ted Welch showed they were willing to "die for deal old Rutgers." If we forgot to mention anyone else, he played a swell game too.

In the tennis tournament staged recently at the Bath and Tennis Club, Peter Strassburger, seeded fourth in the event, staged the upset of the day when he defeated Hoyt Smith, second seeded racquet wielder, in a stiff four-set match, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5 and 6-3.

Miss Phipps, unseeded net star who eliminated two seeded players in the tourney, added a third win to her string of victories yesterday when she defeated Miss Jean Nolan, 7-5 and 6-4.

Playing one of the steadiest games of tennis seen in the tournament, Peter Strassburger forced his higher seeded opponent at all times, causing him to error frequently.

Smith offered spirited opposition throughout, especially in the third set, when he had him set point three times before Strassburger finally broke through to win it, 7-5.

The Nolan-Phipps encounter offered some of the hardest hitting tennis ever witnessed in a feminine net contest. Both players showed unusual driving force for two such young contestants, playing long driving shots throughout. Miss Phipps played a hard baseline shot throughout, varying it with a very short chop to the net, which caused Miss Nolan's downfall.

In the men's doubles encounter, Hoyt Smith and A. Parker Bryant, seeded first, defeated Briggs S. Cunningham and John Peck, second seeded combination, in three straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, to end the tennis tournament at the club.

Championships in the women's doubles and the mixed doubles were decided the day previous when Mrs. J. C. Hitchcock and Mrs. H. C. Brokaw defeated Mrs. J. B. Jessup and Mrs. David Houston in one event and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jessup eliminated Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont and Mr.

Charles Appel in the mixed doubles finals.

Mr. Brokaw and Mrs. Hitchcock won in straight sets by the count of 6-4, 6-4, while Mr. and Mrs. Jessup were forced to a stiff three-set contest, winning, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4.

The third annual tournament was a huge success in every way, with the tennis committee of the club deserving much credit, and Johnny Cardegna, club professional, being responsible to a large degree in the smooth way in which the tournament was run.

Ab Johnson, West Palm Beach sharpshooter, won the Annual Men's Golf Championship of Palm Beach, played over the Palm Beach Country Club course, when he defeated John Cushman, steady Greenville, S. C., shot-maker, by the narrow margin of one up over the 36-hole route.

Both shot steady golf over the morning round with Cushman one up at the turn but Johnson evened the tally when the pair reached the eighteenth green. Cushman took the first two holes of the out-nine, but Johnson found his game on the fourth green and regained three holes in a row, losing the eighth and ninth to remain one down at the turn.

The in-nine was a see-saw affair with the game being won on the final green when Johnson made a par four to Cushman's five.

In the second flight finals, Joseph Schenck, III, defeated William B. Langford, 2 and 1, and in the consolation event Gen. A. C. Critchley defeated H. H. Brooker, 5 and 4.

Heading a representative field of golfers who participated in the event, Brigadier-General Critchley of London, England, and F. L. Shea of Quincy, Mass., shared medal honors in the qualifying round. Following the finals, Critchley and Shea played an extra round to decide the medalist with the British sportsman winning by a one stroke tally, 72 to his opponent's 73.

One stroke behind came Fred J. Hannon, long-driving golfer from Quincy, Mass. The remainder of the first flight had to score an 82 or better to get in under the wire, with Briggs Cunningham defending champion, scoring an 81.

MIAMI

HE advent of spring next week will signal a round of parties for the new season. With no pause in the gayety which has been rampant here this year, the new season will be greeted with the arrival of many spring vacationists.

Sports interest will center on the annual Florida Year-Round Clubs men's golf tournament, to be played here March 19 to 24. The event is drawing a large field of golfers who will compete for the trophy now held by the youthful Henry Russell, who will not defend his title. The champion, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Russell of Coral Gables, is attending Duke University this year as a freshman.

Many early entries have been booked for the tournament, among them are S. C. Anderson, T. E. Price, William Monsell, L. D. Breckenridge, C. Stuart Hall, Jr., Inman Padgett, L. G. Ropes, and Dr. Stephen B. Gibbs. During the tournament a number of social events have been planned, including a cup presentation dinner at the 19th hole of the Miami Biltmore Country Club at the conclusion of the tournament.

Closely following the men's tourney will be the event for women members of the Year-Round Clubs, March 29 to April 3.

The international colony at the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club has had many additions this week, indicating the increasing popularity of this resort with continental visitors.

Included in the foreign colony are Sir William and Lady Coxen of London, Eng.; Major and Mrs. S. H. Long, also of London; Mrs. T. B. Burnham of Hardelot, France; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Gilka of Germany and Baron and Baroness Manel de Giey of Belgium.

Major Alexander Seversky, the noted aeronautical designer, and Mrs. Seversky of Locust Valley, Long Island, are guests of the Roney Plaza. Recently they were entertained at the Miami Biltmore by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harwood of New York. Mrs. Harwood is the enthusiastic flyer, who flies her own plane and is known to her friends as the "flying grandmother." The Harwoods have been here all season. Mrs. Harwood is planning to fly to Palm Beach shortly.

Among the visiting celebrities at the Roney Plaza the past week was James J. Braddock, world's heavy weight champion, who visited J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation.

Alexander Gray, star of many musical comedies, is at the Miami Biltmore.

Rafael Diaz, the Metropolitan opera star, was the guest of honor at a party given recently by Mrs. Lillian Smith Bezner of New York. The event, which took place in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza, was preceded by a cocktail party at the estate of Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Tobin. Guests in the party were Mr. and Mrs. William Magraw, Miami Beach; Mr. and Mrs. G. Harry Baumer, Mrs. Edna Burns, Count Frederick Blackmere of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Carleton Alsop of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson Ostrander have been entertaining freuently. Their guests on one occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. McMullen of New York; Mr. and Mrs.

Seth W. Morton, Albany; Mrs. John K. Walbridge of Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Phipps Sanger and George H. Bull of New York city.

One of the salient points on the month's social calendar was the appearance of Paul Whiteman at the tea dance in the Roney Plaza gardens. Several hundred members of the winter colony attended. Among those entertaining were Dr. and Mrs. Harry M. Beck of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; J. A. Calvin, Mrs. K. A. Veit, H. H. Boughton, Frank A. Slyon, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. William Jones.

Week-end activities are forecast as particularly gay this week. Many dinner parties are scheduled including that of Mrs. Tuthill Warren, who will entertain for Mrs. Samuel P. West, who is visiting here from Westfield, N. J.

Mrs. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 3rd, of Boston has been visiting at Miami Beach as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Oles of Youngstown,

"PADDOCK AT HIALEAH," BY J. W. GOLINKIN, WHICH IS IN WATER COLOR AND ONE OF THE ARTIST'S "HIALEAH" SERIES. IT IS VERY GAY IN COLOR, IS ABOUT TWENTY-TWO BY THIRTY INCHES IN SIZE.
AND IS AT PRESENT IN THE SPORTING GALLERY IN NEW YORK. ONE OF THIS SERIES IS NOW IN THE FELIX GOULED GALLERIES ON WORTH AVENUE.

Ohio. The Oles have a home on Miami Beach. Another couple who have been hosts at a number of small parties are Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Flateau of Fifth Avenue, New York, who are passing the season at the Roney Plaza.

Joining her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowley of New York for a spring vacation was Miss Alice Ruth Crowley, a member of the sub-debutante group.

Following the closing of a winter home, which she occupied on Miami Beach, Mrs. James A. Farley, wife of the postmaster general of the United States, registered at the Roney Plaza for an indefinite stay. Mr. Farley has returned to Washington, D. C., on official business.

Dr. and Mrs. James Cahill of Washington, D. C., have returned to their home following a brief sojourn here. Dr. Cahill, who is the chief of the surgical department at Georgetown university, and chief surgeon at Providence hospital in Washington, and Mrs. Cahill passed several days in Nassau, previous to their arrival here.

The annual duplicate contract bridge tournament for the Miami Beach Winter Championship will take place Saturday and Sunday, March 20 and 21 at the Roney Plaza.

The Roney Plaza bridge trophy, which was won last year by Vaden Parks and Edward Cohen, will be awarded to the winning pair this year. Many members of out-of-town bridge clubs have been invited to play in the tournament, in addition to members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs.

Baron Waldemar von Zedtwitz, noted bridge authority, is a member of the committee of Miami Beach residents in charge of the tournament. Others are Robert W. Gifford, Newman Clark, Edward B. Jouffret, Mrs. M. Applegate Archer and Mrs. Christine Smith.

Recent additions to the resort colony include Mr. and Mrs. Irving Netcher, who frequently entertain in their cabana on the ocean front; Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Pingree, South Hamilton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paxson, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Caston, Fifth Avenue, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Pittman, Jr., San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Misch of Glencoe, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce T. Riordan, Toronto, Can.; Mrs. L. Duane Wallick, Providence, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Flynn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buffinton, Fall River, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Barry Durfee, Providence; Mrs. John R. Moroney, Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Young, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Murphy, Wilmette, Ill.; Miss Anna T. Paule, Bronx, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reeve of Bayside, L. I.; William L. Smith of East Liverpool, Ohio; W. J. Spillane, A. S. Bundy of Philladelphia, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Worsick, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Casteel and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald.

Mrs. Edward V. Babcock of Pittsburgh has joined her husband at the Roney Plaza for the remainder of the season. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Babcock entertained with a dinner party which included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips, Butler, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Budd of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Allen Camperthwitz of New Haven, Conn.

Among other recent parties was that of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Harmon of Washington, D. C., who entertained Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Limkins and Miss Isabel Harmon. Mrs. Marcus Fowler Searle of Brooklyn, N. Y., was hostess at a luncheon party on the tropical terrace of the Roney Plaza. Her guests were Mrs. George Andrews Caldwell of Miami, Miss Maude McMeekin of Brooklyn, Mrs. F. E. Morris, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. William J. O'Connor, New York; Mrs. J. B. Morris, Mrs. M.E. Chenoir of St. Louis and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell of Brooklyn.

Miami Beach is lively . . . the season's at its peak . . . and the Roney Plaza is once more the fashionable haunt of gaiety . . . so all's well with the world on this strip of the Coconut Coast.

Day or night, there's plenty to amuse, stimulate and refresh you at the Roney . . . entertainment for a few hours or the rest of the season . . . cabaña parties . . . three dance floors (two outdoors) . . . good orchestras and floor-show divertissements . . . pool, surf and sun bathing . . . tennis and badminton matches . . . and, if you're a guest of the hotel, special transportation (luxurious aerocars) to the races, the Florida "keys" and all the playspots in this glamorous vacation area, without charge.

Come down for a cocktail . . . stay for a week . . . and enjoy the best vacation program ever offered in the resort world.

RONEY PLAZA ATTRACTIONS

Main dining room: cuisine a la francaise, best vintage wines, nightly floor shows, two orchestras.

"AMERICA'S FINEST OCEANFRONT HOTEL"

UNDER THE STARS

ALM BEACH nights, regarded generally as the most beautiful in the world, achieve an added glamour when spent at the Club Madrid. Every night at the dinner hour, the tables in the patio, arranged against a background of artistic tropical planting, are occupied by small groups of fashionable society who demand perfection in cuisine and service. Ray Benson and his outstanding orchestra have throughout the season played the best dance music available in the resort, and thereby built up an enviable reputation.

Among those entertaining at the club recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon, who gave a dinner for six friends. Senor and Senora Alfredo Gonzales Prada were hosts to a similar number.

Mr. Sherman Pratt gave a dinner at the club for Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Whitney, Mrs. Frelinghuysen Carleton, Mrs. Muriel Lawrence, Miss

MR. GEORGE KAMIR OF NEW YORK CITY ESCORTS MRS. M. DORLAND DOYLE, MEMBER OF THE NEW YORK AND PALM BEACH SOCIAL SET, AT THE GALA OPENING OF THE COLONY CLUB, NEWEST AND SMARTEST OF RESORT SUPPER CLUBS.

Barbara Babcock, Mr. Alfred V. Leaman and Mr. Ward Fax. Mr. Horace Kelland had in his party, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandt, Miss Elsie Plankinton and Mr. Jack Troll. Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Harding gave a small dinner for their guests at Chicora, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Morgan of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford II were present at the club recently, having with them their house-guest, Miss Virginia Middleton French. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney were late arrivals. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., was host to a group that included Miss Elise Plankinton and Mr. Jack Trowl. Mrs. Josiah Fiske had a small party for dinner. Mr. Elliott Sperber, who is passing several weeks at Whitehall, gave a dinner for a group including Mr. Alfred V. Leaman III, Mr. William Woods Plankinton, Mr. Edward V. Quinn and Mr. Ted Bassett.

Among those present one night last week were many members of The Breakers winter colony, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Robertson of New York, who gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ludlum, Mr. and Mrs. H. Waverly Dixon, and Mr. Arthur G. Hoffman. Mr. and Mrs. William L. Mellon of Pittsburgh, Pa., were present at the club with their guest, Miss Florence Hood. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Logan occupied a small table.

Marking a high point in the resort's entertainment activity, the First Annual Police Pension Ball at the Colony Club, was an outstanding success with a host of resort socialites attending the affair in delightful dinner groups.

Half the proceeds of the ball were donated to this worthy cause, going into the permanent pension fund for officers incapacitated in line of duty or retiring after a certain period of service.

Featured entertainment was offered with Arthur Brown as master of ceremonies, including Gwynn, famous magician; Gomez and Winona, internationally known dance team; Anne Heath, charming songstress, and Val Ernie and his Continentals.

One of the largest parties of the evening was that of Mrs. Joseph F. Moran, who had as her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Roberts, Miss Margaret Connell, Miss Beatrice English, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. Basil Throckmorton, Mr. Esmond Paul O'Brien, Mrs. George R. Holmes, Governor Frank Murphy, Judge George Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D'Esterre were also hosts to a large gathering including, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McNeil, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Naramore, Miss Anne Marie Morales, Mr. Harry Kelton, Mr. Joseph Bannon, Mr. Charles Ward, Mr. W. W. Metzgar, Mr. William L. Moffett, Mr. Victor Hammer.

Others included were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean, Lord and Lady Plunkett, Com. and Mrs. Vincent Bloss Ward, Mrs. E. P. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sholtz, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wolfe Kahn, Mr. Rene Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Hobart Endicott Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gordon Hammersly, Miss Alice Delamar, Mr. J. B. Dunbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Homan, Mrs. Catherine Legget, Mrs. Irving Hall Chase, Mr. Jay Cook, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, Jr.

The Merry-Go-Round tea dansants at the Colony prove an ideal rendezvous with the warm, sunny breezes attracting a record turnout of smart resorters, offering every indication of what is being worn in the way of afternoon apparel by the winter contingent spending a sojourn at Palm Beach.

American and European society may be found any evening dining at The Patio, the lovely County Road rendezvous.

The Patio is also thronged during the luncheon period, when members of the resort colony dine in the sunlight, and are entertained by Jack Towne and his Patio orchestra and by Myrus the man with the X-ray eye, who has the uncanny ability of reading one's thoughts.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford and Mrs. John Jacob Astor dined at The Patio recently, and they frequently drop in for supper and dancing. Mr. J. Jay O'Brien was dinner host to this house-guest, Captain Alastair Mackintosh.

At a flower-decorated table Friday night, Mrs. Winston Guest entertained Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke, and Mr. George McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamot duPont had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. David Houston, Mr. and Mrs. David Foster, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jessup.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Garbisch, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cheek, had six in their party.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney came down from Hobe Sound and were noted at a table with eight friends.

One of the largest dinner parties of the season was that given at The Patio by Mrs. Joseph B. Whitehead. Her beautifully decorated table added to the gem-like appearance of this lovely rendezvous. Mrs. Whitehead's guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton, Col. and Mrs. Harold Allen Braman, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Logan, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Huntley, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hasler, Mrs. Osgood Field Hoving, Mrs. Edward Plaut, Mrs. Clement Johnson, Mrs. Hanna Carr, Mrs. Francis Wann Randolph, Mrs. Lawrence A. Furlong, Miss Rhonie Danzer, Mr. G. Young Kaufman, Jr., Mr. Rene Seligman, Mr. Richard Lounsbery, Mr. Phelps Clawsen, Mr. Reuben Crane, Mr. Leonard Beard, the Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. Basil Throckmorton, Mr. Esmond P. O'Brien and Mr. Grenville Walker.

Going Home . . ?

It is a shame, of course, that you have to leave the Palm Beaches so soon . . . but if you feel you really must go, the Foster Travel Service has planned a number of scenic routes north, which will make your trip home a fitting culmination to a glorious Winter here in the tropics.

Before you leave the state, for instance, you ought not to miss the lovely McKee Jungle Gardens or the fragrant Cypress Gardens of Winter Haven in Gardenia Time... nor the many wonders of Ocala's famed Silver Springs. Nowhere is the Old South of the Plantation Days so typified as in the old-fashioned charm of the Wormsloe Gardens in Savannah and the Bellingrath Gardens near Mobile, at the end of the glorious Azalea Trail.

Further North, in the historic city of Charleston are the renowned Magnolia Gardens, another veritable paradise ... while the more westerly route takes you thru the magnificent Blue Ridge Mountain country and the Great Smoky Range through Asheville in the Land of the Sky.

Whether your interest be in Nature's wonderlands, in historic spots, or even in good golf courses, health-giving baths, The Ask Mr. Foster is prepared to give you detailed information and literature . . . routes planned . . . tickets and reservations handled . . . cards of introduction given and never any fees or charges.

THE BREAKERS — facing the Casino

Having taken the necessary steps authorizing a national bank to do a trust business we are now in position to continue the extensive trust service heretofore rendered by Central Farmers' Trust Company, an institution long prominent in fiduciary circles throughout the State of Florida. The same trust personnel formerly associated with that institution will be continued to handle these matters.

These added facilities coupled with the advantages of our affiliation with the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville, Florida, enable us to offer to the residents of the Palm Beaches a complete fiduciary service that meets the requirements of the largest estate or trust.

"Where Shall We Stop On Our Way Home?"

If only all problems were so easily solved! For 40 years it has been the smart tradition for returning visitors to stop at Pinehurst, on U. S. Route 1, or readily reached by the Scaboard Air Line.

Pinehurst is 650 feet above see level, among the long leaf pines. The winter climate is kindly, never too warm or too cool, and practically every day permits full enjoyment of golf (on courses with marvelous grass greens), tennis, riding, fox hunting, polo and shooting.

Moderate hotel rates. Selected clientele. For booklet PB—write to Pinehurst, Inc., Pinehurst, N. C.

There's nothing like GAS for

BROILING

Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING

Gas gives you the oven yentilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that "steamed flavor."

BAKING

Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!

FRYING

Perfect, speedy frying requires instant high heat—even spread of heat under the skillet numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!

BOILING

Faster! Gas brings foods to a boil in 7/3 the time or less of other fuels. More flexible, it gives you the exact shades of hear you need.

STYLISTS TO A DISTINGUISHED CLIENTELE FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

In harmony with our new age of elegance and adornment, this coming spring and summer season will see colored Tuxedos in wine, plum, blue, green, maroon and various other shades being worn by Society leaders, which will be in keeping with our new colorful environment.

PAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"

This new kind of car conquers all roads, all circumstances of travel. In city or country, on roads good and bad, the Lincoln-Zephyr rolls up new records of performance.

Ask, as you consider this car, what it offers that other cars in its price field do not. The Lincoln-Zephyr has a 12-cylinder engine—the V-type. Twelve cylinders mean greater smoothness and flexibility. Twelve cylinders mean 14 to 18 miles per gallon!

The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR has a unique body structure. This is the only car of its kind. Body and frame are one, welded together. You ride surrounded by steel. And you ride amidships. This car flows along like a sloop in a favoring breeze.

The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR has extra roominess. It is a big car. The wheelbase is 122 inches. There are no conventional running boards; seats, like divans, are wider. Three may sit comfortably on the front seat or the back.

The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR, finally, has the Lincoln background. It is built in the Lincoln plant. Lincoln precision methods are Lincoln-Zephyr precision methods. Mechanical standards for the one are mechanical standards for the other.

Prices now are lower. Convenient terms through Authorized Universal Credit Company Finance Plans. Lincoln Motor Company, builders of the Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr.

... old in its scenes new in its pleasures

From the grey old fortress on the hill to the native market-place, from the quaint streets and picturesque quayfront to the vivid, crystal beauty of the tropic seas, Nassau today is the same colourful West Indies capital that first enchanted smart visitors from America and England. But Nassau today has many new pleasures: complete sports facilities, brilliant social diversions . . . and the splendid comforts of the British Colonial Hotel, towering above the most interesting quarter of the Old World city from a spacious estate on the harbour-front, overlooking the sea.

Because of favourable local duties, Nassau's shops offer imported wares at remarkable economies and shopping for London and Paris treasures is part of the fun of your Nassau holiday. The sophisticated pleasures of the casino, horse racing at a mile track, surfing and sunning on reef-sheltered beaches, golf on a 27-hole seaside course . . . are among the island's resort diversions. The British Colonial Hotel estate includes swimming pool, tennis courts, private yacht landing and the celebrated Marine Grill, center of Nassau's night-life.

Overnight by sea from Miami, or two hours via daily airliner—2½ days by direct ship from New York. For literature, hotel reservations, etc., address: British Colonial Booking Director, P. O. Box 548, Coral Gables, Miami, Florida—the New York office at 521 Fifth Ave. (Suite 1238-41)—or the Chicago office at 180 N. Michigan Ave. (Suite 615).

CRUISE TO ADVENTURE

Nassau, capital of England's treasure island colony, is more inviting this year than ever—from its fascinating Old World shops to the sophisticated pleasures of the casino . . . from its fashionable resort-life to its reef-sheltered beaches. This wonderful adventure is one gala night's sail from Miami via the famous British cruise ship New Northland . . . make your reservations today!

BEACH PANORAMA

S THE season draws to a close life seems to be as gay and exciting as ever, especially at the various Beach Clubs. Perhaps it is because everyone wants to start their northward trek looking as fit as possible, and a healthy tan is the best possible way to accomplish it, so the beaches and terraces are filled with sun worshipers, who are making the most of every sunny hour.

CUBA'S HISTORIC LINK WITH THE DAST

RINIDAD, the most important city in Cuba up to the first half of the nineteenth century, is the mecca for Cuban historians who find many relics of the past within its confines. "Old Serrano Square," which Cortez built to house his army provisions and horses when he was organizing his men for the conquest of Mexico; "Jigue" plazuela where there is an old house in the same spot that sheltered the first priests to celebrate mass on the island; the ruins of the first City Hall and in the background the antique convent of "San Francisco," which was for a century or more used as quarters for the Spanish soldiers and is today being utilized as a school.

The celebrated traveler and German naturalist Alejandro de Humbolt dwelt in Trinidad for many years and the people have carefully preserved his home as they have the summer residences of the Captain Generals of the Spanish army. Enormous solid mahogany doors studded with large headed nails and carved ceilings indicate the splendor of the early days of the Spanish conquerors on the island of Cuba.

Trinidad's cobbled streets are paved with rare old "Chinas Pelonas," little round pebbles of extraordinary durability which were made and laid by the slaves and political prisoners of a century ago. These streets today are in an excellent state of preservation despite the torrential streams which rush down them during the rainy weather.

Possibly the most unusual building competition of all time took place in Trinidad a century ago. Three proud millionaires of that time, Juan Cantero, Pedro Iznaga and Guillermo Becquer strove to outdo each other in the erection of glittering palaces. Guillermo Becquer, determined to leave his two competitors far in the rear, began to pave the floors of his mansion with mozaics brought from the Mediteranean, but being a very touchy chap he desisted after almost completing the job, because he had overheard some of the villagers say that he had not money enough to complete the work. He then took up the priceless mozaics and replaced them with gold coins worth about seventeen dollars apiece with the King's effigy stamped on them.

After completely flooring his palace with the gold coins he was forced by the governor to take up the gold coins because it was considered a criminal offense to "tread upon the King."

Again the over-sensitive Becquer overheard village gossip which made it appear that he had taken the gold coins up because of insufficient funds and in a last desperate gesture he petitioned the Governor for formal permission to be allowed to replace the gold coins with the edges up. This permission was refused and the incident is supposed to have embittered the eccentric capitalist's life. He ordered his palace demolished and tons of marble and thousands of feet of mahogany were extracted from the ruins.

There still exists, however, the mansions of his two rivals and many other palaces showing the immense wealth of the original rulers in Trinidad.

In beautiful "San Luis" valley nearby there exists a tower seven stories high testifying to another weird competition, this time between neighboring farmers. In the adjacent farm the neighbor had sunk the deepest well to be found in the territory and not to be outdone, the owner of the land where the "skyscraper" now stands decided to build a tower higher than the well was deep. The spirit of competition seems to have been very keen in this community.

On account of its isolation during the four hundred years of the Spanish occupation the city of "Sancti Spiritus" retains more than any other town in Cuba the atmosphere of the past. Its crooked and narrow streets form a puzzling labyrinth and if the visitor has seen "Seville" in Spain, a strong similitude is noted. The old square in Sancti Spiritus is a replica of the town squares in the Moorish cities of Spain. The Honorato square is an authentic copy of the ancient plaza of the "Puerta de Sol of Madrid."

Toledo, Cordoba, the villages of Palos de Moguer, the immortal city from which the great navigator Christopher Columbus saidel in 1492 and a host of other age old cities in Spain pass before you as you walk through the tortuous, twisted streets of Sancti Spiritus. The entire city is a faithful reproduction of the Spain of yesterday and even to its church festivals and customs has preserved through the centuries the every-day life of the old Spanish conquerors.

The principal church, built in the sixteenth century, is a very good example of the Spanish architecture of that epoch;

a mixture of Christian and Moorish styles reminiscent of the "Giralda de Sevilla" with its high tower. From the pulpit of this church the priest Bartolome de las Casas issued his first sermon, asking for the freedom of the Indians who had been placed in slavery after the Spanish had conquered the island. Agitation for the emancipation of the slave evidently had its inception in this ancient Cathedral in 1516, many years before our own bitter civil war brought the issue into the limelight.

Fortunate is the visitor who arrives in Sancti Spiritus during the Lenten Period, when impressive ceremonies are held in the many Cathedrals of the town and processions with all the splendor of the ancient Roman Heraldry, file solemnly through the streets while the simple, devout people line the way for many miles; many of them kneeling in prayer.

One leaves Sancti Spiritus with the feeling that they have witnessed and been a part of a life for a brief hour which is far removed from the work-a-day world. The spirit of a past in which thought, meditation and prayer are integral parts of the lives of the people. Sancti Spiritus seems centuries removed from the hustle, bustle and worry of the modern world. A fitting note on which to close one's visit to the lovely, intriguing island of Cuba.

"AU-REVOIR BUT NOT GOOD-BYE." TO THE DEPARTING VISITOR WHO HAS ABSORBED THE OLD WORLD ATMOSPHERE OF CUBA AND IS NOW SAILING PAST THE GRIM OLD MORRO CASTLE AND AWAY FROM THE PICTURESQUE HARBOR WITH ITS MEDLEY OF FOREIGN CRAFT THIS SCENE WILL LONG REMAIN A VIVID MEMORY.

GOLF AND TENNIS REVIEWED

ESORT sports activities continue apace even though the planned tournaments, both in golf and tennis, are nearing the end. The past week has offered major activity in both these favorite diversions of Palm Beach visitors and winter residents with nearly all the clubs holding an event of some sort.

High point of the week's activity was the annual Palm Beach Professional Tennis Tournament, in which prominent resort tennis professionals took part. Noted figures in the world of professional tennis, who have done so much to foster the game and teach the finer points to amateurs, competed in the annual contest to decide the championship among them.

James G. Pressly, private professional to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hasler, retained his Palm Beach professional singles' title at the Poinciana courts with a straight set triumph over Daniel Watson, hard-hitting pro representing the Palm Beach Tennis Club. Pressly won the title in 1936 and turned in better performances during the Palm Beach Professionals' Tournament as he played through in the lower half of the draw. Pressly triumphed by scores of 6-3, 6-4 and 6-4 before a large and enthusiastic gallery which packed the colonade balcony and was seated about the championship court. The tall, blonde champion went into the match carrying the colors of the famed Avon Club, as he had ribbons of the club pinned to his tennis shirt. Playing a keen, strategic game the defending titlist broke up the hard-hitting game of Watson with deception, change of pace and the right shot at the proper time. Mixing his service he forced the Poinciana ace to frequently overdrive the baseline as Pressly served up teasers and soft services. Watson played amazingly fine tennis in the semi-final in disposing of Johnny Cardegna and one fan said that on that occasion he was as hot as a welsh rarebit.

Pressly took a 3-1 lead in the first set and ran it out at 6-3. In the second stanza Watson zoomed into a 2-0 lead before Pressly held his service and broke Watson to even at 2-all. Watson broke back and then Pressly retaliated and Watson broke again to lead 4-3, but the champion then showed his mettle and took the next three games to annex the set at 6-4. In the final set both rivals took braces of games to bring the set to 4-all. Pressly then used a heavily sliced drive to keep Watson on the defensive in the ninth game, held his service for a 5-4 lead and then broke through his rival to take the set, the match and the championship for the second straight year.

The doubles' final was a sparkling affair but the newly formed team of Johnny Cardegna and Bill Kenny, sporting the colors of the Bath and Tennis Club, played like demons and ran off with the title in straight sets. They turned back the highly-geared tandem of Ellis Klingeman and Arthur Rudolph by scores of 6-2, 6-2 and 7-5. The 19-year-old William Kenny, assistant to Cardegna at the club, and a son of the late Daniel Kenny, was the best man on the doubles' court. Servicing with speed and heavy deception he kept the rival pair on the defensive and when lobs came his way Bill treated them with lethal punishment, pulling out game after game from the fire with his smashing and angled volleying which brooked no return. Cardegna's service was a potent weapon all afternoon and his sallies to the forecourt placed his team in the position time after time to finish off shots. Last year's champions were Alan Wylie and Jim Kenny, who were eliminated on Sunday by the new champions, Cardegna and Bill Kenny.

Constance White and Nick Biddle took top honors in the mixed doubles tennis tourney held at the Bath and Tennis Club for members of the school set in the resort, winning 27 games and losing 9.

Four games behind were, Sonia Phipps and John Perry with 23 games won and 13 lost, while in third place were Jane Spalding and Bayard Walker with 22 won and 14 lost.

Summary: Constance White and Nick Biddle, 27 won and nine lost; Sonia Phipps and John Perry, 23 won and 13 lost; Jane Spalding and Bayard Walker, 22 won and 14 lost: Ruth Robb and Robert Chew, 20 won and 16 lost; Seth Coleman and Eddie Roberts, 19 won and 17 lost; Katherine Wait and Thatcher Waller, 17 won and 19 lost; Ann Norris and George Pillsbury, 16 won and 20 lost; Jane Hamilton and Donald O'Brien, 16 won and 20 lost; Helen R. ford Fuller, 8 won and 28 lost.

Playing an excellent brand of tennis, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs S. Cunningham won the weekly round robin mixed doubles at the Everglades Club, taking 29 games and losing only seven.

Mrs. Lawrence Furlong and W. E. Stokes took second honors with 21 won and 15 lost and Mrs. Robert Appleton and Luther A. Wait were third with 20 won and 16 lost.

Summaries:

Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Cunningham won 29, lost 7; Mrs. Lawrence Furlong and W. E. Stokes won 21, lost 15; Mrs. Robert Appleton and Luther Wait won 20, lost 16; Miss Dorcthy Bohan and Malcolm Humphreys won 19, lost 17; Mrs. George C. Van Dusen and David Jones won 15, lost 21; Mr. and Mrs. James K. Norris won 12, lost 24; Miss Anton Dunn and Edward Dunn won 11, lost 25.

Mr. Robert Appleton presented the winners with two beautiful silver goblets which were given by the Everglades Club.

In a tightly played match against four other clubs, the Seminole Golf Club team emerged the winners in the 18-hole match of medal play over the Palm Beach Golf Club course, garnering a low aggregate of 403 points.

Taking second honors came the Palm Beach Country Club with an aggregate of 406 points, the Everglades Club with 407 points, the Old Guard team with 409 points and the Palm Beach Golf Club with 412 points.

Low amateur of the day was John Cushman, captain of the Palm Beach Golf Club, who made a 36-37 for a 73 while Alex Ritchie, team professional on the Old Guard tallied 35-37 for a 72.

Those playing on the winning team with scores were: Col. Latham Reed, captain, 41-41—82; Elmer Rich, 38-40—78; J. J. Daly, 40-41—81; Blaine Zuver, 43-41—84; Wilfred Reid, club professional at the Seminole Club, 40-38—78.

Summary of the other teams: Palm Beach Country Club, H. D. Street, captain, 43-40—83; W. B. Langford, 42-40—82; H. S. Moody, Jr., 45-41—86; J. Ahern, 38-40—78; Sydney Covington, Country Club professional, 41-36—77; Everglades Club, H. A. Bedford, captain, 35-39—74; G. K. Morgan, 48-45—93; Joseph Schenck III, 43-37—80; C. F. Meyer, 40-41—

81; Jack Ross, 40-39—79; Old Guard, H. L. Willoughby, Jr., captain, 37-47—84; Roger Bacon, 44-40—84; E. G. Lauder, Jr., 38-44—82; John W. Madden, 45-42—87; Alex Ritchie, 35-37—72; Palm Beach Golf Club, John Cushman, captain, 36-37—73; H. L. Willoughby, III, 40-40—80; Allan K. Wylie, 37-47—84; A. A. Nelson, 44-49—93; George M. Gordon, Golf Club professional, 40-42—82.

Following a delicious buffet lunch enjoyed on the club verandah, the teams played their medal round and returned to compute their scores.

J. Jay O'Brien won the 18th annual golf competition for the Governor's Cup played over the Everglades Club course, turning in a score of 3 up to par in 18 holes of match play versus par under handicap.

In second place was Elmer Rich with a tally of 1 up to par while Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow finished 1 down to par to take third honors, along with B. H. Kroger.

Others participating were, Abram Nesbitt III, Grover Loening, J. H. Noble, J. Terry West, B. H. Pelzer, H. A. Bedford, H. S. Hart, E. C. Warner, S. G. Rosson, G. Horton Glover, George Williams, R. William Clark, E. Perry Charlton, W. W. Forrester, Paul Prudden, Jr., Nathan D. Bill, Homer E. Sawyer, Frank B. McQuesten, C. F.

Meyer and W. H. Carpenter. One of the oldest trophies in the resort, the Governor's Cup, has an interesting history. First golfer to have his name engraved on the cup for winning in 1920 was George Kingsland. Following him was Cornelius F. Fox, Cornelius F. Fox, who topped the field in 1921. Captain G. R. Westacott's name appears as the champion for 1923 competition.

O. L. Brailey took the honors in 1923 with one of the best scores ever turned in for the event. Alexander R. Revell followed Brailey as high man in the 1924 tournament. George H. Nicolai outclassed the field in 1925 and in '26 and '27, G. C. Caner and John G. Newington, respectively, won the event.

Following a lapse of five years in competition Albert R. Hakes won the renewal of the tournament in 1932. J. H. Overall headed the field in 1933 and another haitus was noted until last year when B. H. Pelzer carried off the honors.

Appointment of various committees for the ensuing year was made by the Old Guard Society of Palm Beach Golfers with the full roster of officers and committee as follows:

Officers: Blaine Zuver, president; Clarence Hall, vice president; Wm. B. Langford, sec.-treas.; Hugh L. Willoughby, Jr., captain; Stafford B. Beach, assistant secretary.

Tropical Comfort

NE of the most alluring environments with an atmosphere of hominess to be found in Palm Beach is the Seaglade Hotel, ably managed by the popular William G. Havill, really a pioneer here in resort hotel management. Pictured above is the Terrace Restaurant and Patio, a recent addition to this popular hostelry, which typifies the natural beauty of Florida, with the combined pleasure of overlooking the broad Atlantic. The main lounge shown at the left is a symbol of relaxation and intimate design.

Palm Beach Residence of Mrs. William H. Buckley

OCATED near the Ocean Boulevard on Seaview Avenue, this attractive Monterey House is placed on its property so as to take full advantage of its surroundings. The entire stucco exterior is painted a dull white while the louvre shutters and woodwork are gloss white, which creates a pleasant contrast. The roof is of grey asbestos shingle tile, which makes a complete background for the well placed trees and landscaping. There is the over hanging second floor balcony with its wrought iron railing facing the south. Facing north there are corniced porches on the first and second floors. These porches look out on a colorful walled-in patio. The floors of all porches and all walks in the patio are of vari-colored slate slabs.

The house itself is spacious and livable, having large windows and doors to insure the maximum amount of sunshine and ventilation. The first floor consists of an entrance hall, living room, powder room, dining-room, loggias, guest bedroom and bath; butler's pantry, kitchen and screened in rear porch. The color scheme of walls and trim for this floor, excepting the service section is done in light grey and oyster white. The entire service section section is glass white to match the all metal cabinets and equipment.

The second floor has a master bedroom and four other bedrooms, three baths, hall and porches. The bedroom walls are done in light pastel shades of attractive colors, while the woodwork is semi-gloss white. The baths have colored fixtures to match the colored tile floors and base. All other floors throughout are oak finished in the natural.

The garage and servants quarters are located to the west and rear of the residence. There is a two car garage, showers, dressing room and storage space on the ground floor. The second floor has two spacious servants' rooms and bath. The entire grounds to the north, east and west is walled in with a seven foot stucco wall while the front has an attractive brick wall and picket fence. All surroundings are painted the same color as the house.

NEW VARIETY OF ORNAMENTAL CHERRY TREE

HIS time of the year people commence to talk about trees and appropriately, too, for spring is upon us and before long the blossoms and buds will begin to shoot forth. In the national capital the rows of blossoming cherry trees are world famous. Thousands of Americans will make the yearly pilgrimage to Washington to see them.

It should be of great interest to residents of Palm Beach that Mrs. S. Fahs Smith, well-known member of the cottage colony set, is the possessor of a patent for an ornamental cherry tree which is a new and distinct variety of Weeping Cherry. The discovery of this tree was made by Mrs. Smith on her estate, "Elthan," York, Pennsylvania.

This particular tree is an extreme variation from the ordinary types of ornamental cherry trees which have been developed in this country and others by nurserymen. It differs considerably from the Japanese type in that the branches extend upwardly at angles from the main trunk and as these branches become slenderer they curve downwardly and form many lateral limbs which are extremely long, slender, and pendulous. The drooping branches of the tree carry a thick foliage of leaves which are joined to the slender depending branches quite differently from the manner of the usual Japanese type.

In autumn the foliage of this weeping cherry tree is a beautiful bronze which turns to red and remains on the tree longer than most varieties as well as blooming a little earlier than some. The trunk is smooth and upright with a much lighter and smoother bark than the ordinary type of weeping cherries. Another feature of Mrs. Smith's tree is that the branches, starting from the head proceed to take a drooping character and bend gracefully to the ground, reminiscent of the weeping willow.

The flowers borne by the tree are a lovely shade of light pink, almost white and are single while the fruit averages about one-quarter of an inch in diameter. The parentage of the tree is unknown while the foliage has been known to remain until Christmas time.

Mrs. S. Fahs Smith, who was awarded Plant Patent No. 188 for this new variety of Weeping Cherry Tree, which she has developed, transplanted, and grown, is a great granddaughter of Gen. Washington's only sister, Betty, Mrs. Fielding Lewis, also of Mrs. Martha Washington's sister, Anna Maria Dandridge Bassett. She is a member of the following hereditary societies and an officer in several: Daughter of the Cincinnati, Regent for Pennsylvania Descendants of the Most Noble Order of the Knights of the Garter, Burgess for Pennsylvania First Families of Virginia, Councillor for Pennsylvania Order of the Crown of America, Archivist General Americans of Royal Descent, National Society of Colonial Dames of America, Magna Charta Dames, Hugenot Societies of Pennsylvania and South Carolina.

She is also a Member of

She is also a Member of Vestry of Old St. John's Church, York, Pennsylvania for the past fifteen years.

Mrs. S. Fahs Smith has also been very active in social service organizations and is President of the Woman's Auxiliary and President of the Woman's Guild of Bethesdaby-the-Sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith spend their summers at Mere Point, Maine, and the remander of their time between seasons at their estate in York where the new variety of tree was discovered. They are owners of a yacht, "Nahma," and are members of the Everglades Club and the Bath and Tennis Club in Palm Beach. Through the patent, Mrs. Smith is given the exclusive right of the invention in America.

RESORT IS AERIAL SUBURB TO NATIONAL CENTERS

FLIGHT to Arizona, California or New Mexico for a couple of weeks or a dash to New York to show off that sublime tan picked up in the patios and beaches of Palm Beach has been the vogue this season. The Dillmans, Dodges, Emersons, Munns, and other leading lights in the colony have made brief sallies into other settings for long enough periods to find Palm Beach more attractive by contrast. Proof of the truth of this assertion is found in the extraordinary activity found in the resort in late March.

Never before in the history of the resort have there been so many short trips to other climes and so many prolonged stays in Palm Beach after these interludes. Almost without exception each of these tentative gestures toward other spas has culminated in a hasty return to the land of sunshine and gayety.

The latest progidal to return to the fold is the charming Mrs. Margaret Emerson, who was away from the flock for far too long a stay to suit her many friends in Palm Beach. An excellent reason for Mrs. Emerson's direlection is found on the Pacific coast where her son Mr. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt is racing his stable on the famous Santa Anita track.

Miss Gloria Baker, whose charms have been sung far and wide is understood to have been responsible in a large measure for the return of Mrs. Emerson and her inevitable carload of guests to Palm Beach. This attractive young socialite had such a wonderful time during her last stay on the island that a return trip was inevitable before the termination of the season.

One of Mrs. Emerson's guests is the handsome Earl of Warwick who has been starring in moving pictures out Hollywood way under the pseudonym of Guy Foulke. The popular young nobleman finds himself quite the social lion since his advent into Palm Beach circles. Between young Horace Kelland son of the noted writer and the dashing Earl, Mrs. Emerson's daughter Gloria finds herself very satisfactorily squired to gay parties and impromptu frolics.

Other guests at the Emerson villa, who arrived in Palm Beach aboard Mrs. Emerson's private car were Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martinez de las Rivas, Mr. and Mrs. Aksel, C. P. Wichfeld and Mr. Frank Rediker.

With private planes gracing the lake front landings of many of the island's colonists the week-end hegira to New York and breakfast back in Palm Beach on Monday morning has become commonplace. The Balsans, Grover Loenings, William Rhinelander Stewarts and many other prominent figures in the colony come and go almost as frequently as the commuter in a Metropolitan city.

Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart recently phoned Mr. Stewart in New York on a Sunday where he had flown on a brief business trip, to find out if he cared to enter in the Backgammon tournament at the Everglades Club on Tuesday.

MRS. JAMES H. KENNEDY

OF KENLEWINAI ON THE SOUTH OCEAN BOULEVARD AND THE COPLEY-PLAZA, BOSTON, WHO IS AN ANNUAL WINTER COLONIST.

Mr. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt is apt to drop out of the clouds returning from Santa Anita for a visit at the Emerson villa at any time of the day or night. Mr. Hugh Dillman thinks nothing of making an overnight dash to New York or Chicago on Saturday and being back at his desk at the club on Monday morning.

Air travel has made Palm Beach as accessible as the corner movie to the cottage colony. Hardly a prominent family in Palm Beach that does not soar off for at least a brief visit to other scenes during their tenure in the world's premier resort. Last year the Laddie Sanfords made a tour of the South American countries between parties here, and Mrs. Margaret Emerson took her entire houseparty along for a flight through Mexico and other Latin American countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutherfurd, who spend most of their lives dashing about in fast motor-boats think nothing of a flight to New York to take in the latest shows and back in Palm Beach in time to walk off with the honors in the Annual Palm Beach Regatta. Mr. John Charles Thomas is another prominent socialite and sportsman to mix short flights with speed-boat races.

Howard Hughes, famous Moving picture producer has become one of the colony, so frequently does he drop in to Palm Beach by plane. He has made the Palm Beach-Miami trip a fifteen minute jaunt by air. Mr. and Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, who are gathering material for another of Jimmy's vital books have included a voyage on the China Clipper in their air memoirs.

The Duke of Marlborough and his lovely wife are among the society group who make travel by air seem as casual as a trolley ride to the county fair. Mr. Berry Lindley flies quite often on his brief sallies to and from the island. Mrs. Joseph F. Moran is one of the most air-minded of the colony's socialites. Mrs. Margaret Emerson's daughter Gloria is as enthusiastic about flying about the globe as her mother

Mr. Charles A. Munn varies his trips by plane with picturesque visits to foreign scenes with his ultra-modern car and trailer. Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy has made Palm Beach a suburb of Washington D. C., with his frequent flights from the capitol to his lovely home on the island. Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane is another of the host commuters to and from Metropolitan centers.

Mr. Grover Loening, one of the foremost figures in aviation, takes off from his private plane landing for short business trips many times during the Palm Beach season.

Another pair of habitues in air travel are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Phipps. This popular couple are visiting Mr. Phipps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Phipps at Casa Benita. They flew here with Mrs. Phipp's mother, Mrs. William Thomas Lane of London. Michael and his cousin Winston Guest are both polo players of note and make flying seem tame by comparison with their daring exploits on the polo field in international matches.

Almost as popular as week-ends in New York and other ports are the private movie presentals in Palm Beach by the owners of ocean front mansions and lake side villas. Leading the list of course with his gem-like miniature theatre is Mr. Charles A. Munn. His house parties have become a legend in Palm Beach life for their ingenuity and entertainment. One never knows whether dinner at the Munn villa will be followed by Mickey Mouse, Greta Garbo or both in their latest screen opus. Incidentally one would think that the plethora of private movie presentals in Palm Beach homes would keep the Paramount and other shows permanently empty but a movie at home seems only to whet the appetite of the island socialite for more. Witness the record crowds at the Paramount Theatre this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer have joined the ranks of amateur moving-picture entrepreneurs. They entertained for a large party of friends recently at their beautiful ocean-front home and climaxed the evening's enjoyment by presenting new reels, short subjects and the uniquitous Mickey Mouse for their guests' approval.

The island estate of the Balsans has been the scene of many gay parties this season with Mme. Balsan's son and daughter-in-law the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough as the guests of honor. At a recent luncheon party Colonel and Madam Louis Jacques Balsan entertained for the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Prince and Princess Boris Scherbatow, the Viscount and Viscountess Richard Adare, Countess Betka Potocka and the Count Alfred Potocki.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt at their Lantana home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fairfax Carv of New York and Newport. Other members of the Vanderbilt houseparty during the season were Mr. and Mrs. Francis I. Amory of Boston and Mr. Frederick S. Allen of New York.

The Duchess of Sutherland followed her stay at Mr. Charles Munn's houseparty with a visit to Mr. Joseph E. Widener and Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II at Il Palmetto. Mr. Widener finds time between trips to Hialeah to look after his magnificent racing plant to play the part of one of Palm Beach's most gracious hosts. Other guests at the Widener home are Mr. and Mrs. Austin Gray and the Misses Joan Peabody and Sally Ann Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr. who occupied the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martinez de las Rivas during their absence in the west have joined Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's houseparty at Concha Marina. The Sloane mansion with its picturesque and dreamy courtyards, tall graceful palm trees, tinkling fountains and lovely swimming pool is one of the most attractive spots on the island for a winter's visit. Here in sun-bathed patios, Mrs. Sloane and her guests relax after that morning dip or engage in lively chatter over tea-cups under murmuring palms amid the fragrance of tropical flowers.

Casa Alexandro, the Palm Beach home of the Paulding Fosdicks, of New York and Newport has been the attractive setting for many gay parties this season. Members of the Fosdick houseparty include Miss Margaret Stewart, Mr. T. Chesley Richardson, Mr. Charles G. West and Mr. Robert Sherwin.

One of the most pleasant of the season's developments has been the re-entry into the social scene of the Edward Townsend Stotesburys, two of the island's most beloved members in the cottage colony. The distinguished financier and his lovely wife have left the seclusion of their ocean front mansion to once again become active participants in the colony's social affairs.

Mrs. Stotesbury was the center of attraction as one of the audience at a recent musical concert sponsored by Mrs. Grover Loening and both she and Mr. Stotesbury have been the guests of honor at innumerable social functions this season. The presence of either of them at any of the island's social gatherings is the signal for a host of greetings from their many friends.

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst entertained in their honor recently at her lovely home "Via del Lago." Among those who gathered to do them honor were Mrs. Margaret Emerson, the Earl of Warwick, who came back from California with the Emerson entourage in their private car; Mr. and Mrs. Paulding Fosdick, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shearson, Mrs. John Baragwanath, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. T. Chesley Richardson, Mr. Bernard Boutet de Monvel and Colonel Owen Hill Keenan.

Qui-Si-Sana, the ocean front villa of Mrs. Earle Perry Charlton, has been the setting for many interesting parties this season. A group of friends from Boca Raton motored up to Palm Beach recently to enjoy their hospitality at an attractive dinner party. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McQuesten, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mr. and Mrs.

Among Palm Beach's most popular hostesses has been Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, whose home, "Casa Marcheta," has been one of the brightest spots in the cottage colony since the inception of the season. One of the most colorful and interesting of the parties given at the Skiff home was the party given for the Tuesday Bridge Club a fortnight ago.

Members of the club who enjoyed the games and tea at Mrs. Skiff's home were Mrs. James A. Dobyne, Mrs. Frank O. Butler, Mrs. James R. Kennedy, Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mrs. William R. Sweatt, Mrs. Chester Milton Williams, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt, Mrs. Harvey Hubbell, Mrs. George Nicolai, Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mrs. Zenas Sears, Mrs. Frank B. McQuesten, Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger and Mrs. McKay LeRoy.

Joining the Winston Guests at their Palm Beach villa, "Tre Fontane," recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hitt of New York and Glen Cove, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke of London are also members of the Guest house party.

Mrs. Winston Guest and the Clarkes were recent entries in the Everglades Club's amusing wheel-chair race. Everything from Backgammon tournaments to interesting parties have occupied the Guest entourage.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

OU Can't Take It With You—seems to be the slogan in Palm Beach as this colorful season begins to draw to a close, which phrase, broadly interpreted, means that only memories of this delightful climate and gay parties can accompany you back to your northern homes.

Of course, the lovely wardrobes which you have accumulated during the winter can be taken with you, but the allure of moonlight nights and tropical sunshine will be missing. So the best thing to do, seems to be to wear them now, as is evidenced by the many attractive ensembles which are seen daily on the street, on the beach and at the many night clubs and hotels.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. Harry Oakes will wear in London, at the Court of St. James, during the coronation ceremonies, a handsome gown of white slipper satin, which has a V decolletage, and a very full circular skirt, which ends in a train. Off the shoulder sleeves which form a wide band, are solidly embroidered in an intricate design of seed pearls interspersed with larger pearls. Above the hemline on the front of the skirt, a motif of the three Prince of Walca feathers is done entirely of pearls.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. W. Pat Fischer wore at the Everglades Club recently an exquisite evening gown of white gros de landre embroidered in pearl white sequins. The basque was tightly fitted, as was the skirt, to the hipline, from which it flared to an exceedingly wide hem. With it she wore an eton jacket with puffed sleeves, which was solidly embroidered with the sequins, and a Juliet cap of the sequins with a little standing veil.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond

A charming dinner gown of white satin was worn several days ago at the Everglades Club by Mrs. William Yager. It had an all over diagonally embroidered design of crystal and bugle beads which extended from shoulder to hem. A hand-some court train of heaven blue velvet which was very long and exquisitely embroidered in rhinestones forming the royal scroll, completed the lovely picture.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. Luther A. Wait also wore at the Everglades Club, a becoming evening gown of sea wave blue satin, fashioned on princess lines. The V decolletage and puffed sleeves were embroidered in a lovely design formed of vari-colored rhinestones.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond \diamond

Mrs. Henry E. Candler, who with Mr. Candler, are guests at The Breakers, wore for luncheon at the Everglades Club recently, a suit of heavy crepe in an aqua shade. The short coat was tightly fitted and solidly embroidered in soutache braid in a coral reef hue, the color combination delightfully blended by a scarf of red and blue.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. W. B. Fredericks of Brookline, Massachusetts, who is a guest at The Breakers, wore recently at tea time, a handsome coat of yellow and golden brown rodier wool, which was designed on straight lines, had slit pockets, and a most becoming collar of cross fox.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond \diamond

Mrs. George Jackson Hill wore last week for luncheon at the Everglades Club, a smart suit in a nude shade of rodier silk, which had a flared skirt and tightly fitted, hip length jacket. A large hat and scarf of dubonnet, were a lovely contrast to this attractive costume.

For luncheon at the Everglades Club also, Mrs. Charles M. Hayes wore a dainty frock of rose marquisette, which was fashioned in a very smart redingote style, and edged from shoulder to hem with exquisite alencon lace, dyed to match the dress. A large hat in a wine shade added to the attractiveness of the ensemble.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. Frederick Preston, was most attractively gowned recently at the Beach Club in a princess frock of shrimp marquisette, the puffed sleeves, bodice and skirt to the hip line appliqued in a scroll design of taffeta, while from just below the hips, the shirt swirled into yards of the marquisette.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. W. Harry Brown wore recently at the Everglades Club, a beautiful gown of pale blue chiffon, the V decolletage, cap sleeves and yoke of the skirt studded with rhinestones. Godets of the chiffon gave graceful fullness at the hemline.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond

Mrs. Thomas Briggs, who is a guest at The Breakers, was becomingly gowned at the Everglades last week in an aqua blue costume of gros de landre, which was embroidered in motifs of rhinestones. A lovely corsage of red and blue roses was worn at the V decolletage.

Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds was her usual dignified self at the Beach Club last week, in a dinner gown of blue crepe, which had puffed sleeves of fuschia, beaded in pastel shades. The bodice was styled with a high shirred neckline and the slender skirt was slit over the right foot.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor shopped recently on Worth Avenue in attractive royal blue tailored slacks and shirt, the shirt have the new small collar and revers, and short sleeves. Mrs. Astor's shoes were a pump type sandal.

Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford was seen on Worth Avenue several days ago, wearing wide slacks and an eton jacket with short sleeves and broad lapels, all of white sharkskin. A dark shirt and scarf and peasant sandals smartly accented the white of the slacks and jacket.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

White slacks and a hip length fitted jacket of royal blue, were worn recently by Miss Virginia French when shopping on Worth Avenue. Toeless sandals of royal blue completed her ensemble.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. Dodge Sloane was very attractive one evening at the Colony Club, in pale blue lace, the bodice having a square neck and slender skirt, over which was tied a very full skirt of blue organza, appliqued with small lace discs.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Mrs. Grover Loening was seen on Worth Avenue recently wearing one of the new dirndl frocks, which was of pink broadcloth. The basque was tightly shirred at the shoulders and waist and was fastened with Schiaparelli hooks and eyes of dubonnet.

Mrs. Arturo Patino wore at the Colony Club recently, a lovely evening gown handblocked in large bunches of flowers on a dark background. The skirt was voluminously full, and the bodice was tightly fitted with a V decolletage. Her necklace, bracelets and earrings were of pearls.

Miss Elena Villa was seen at the Colony Club several nights ago, gowned in sheer organza, with a low flower trimmed decolletage. She wore an eton jacket of sequins, which contrasted charmingly with her filmy gown.

At the Colony Club recently, Mrs. John Mortimer Schiff wore an exquisite gown of lace in a dark and light shade, which graduated from the waist to the hem. The low V decolletage was accented by a lovely jewelled clip.

Miss Ritchie Farrell looked particularly charming at the Tombola last week at the Everglades Club when she drew the lucky numbers out of the silver cup. She wore a handblocked Melody pink linen sports dress which buttoned up the front with small flat white buttons, a rolled collar and short sleeves shirred into the shoulder. The smart, full skirt was shirred on the waist over which a brown belt was worn. A becoming baku hat, white cut-out shoes and white kid purse completed the picture.

MIAMI

HE Governor's Ball at the Miami Biltmore Country club and the banquet given in honor Adolph Zukor, motion picture magnate, at the Roney Plaza made quite a spectacular week-end in Miami. Both events were attended by many spring vacationists who have arrived to enliven the new season.

The Governor's ball last Saturday served to herald the first day of spring and it also set in motion a round of parties in this resort.

Sponsored by a local organization for charity, the ball was the occasion for much entertaining by the socially prominent members of the colony. Governor Fred P. Cone of Florida was especially invited to attend.

The banquet for Mr. Zukor was the climax to a three-day convention of Paramount Theatre owners and operators which was held at the Roney Plaza with upwards of 150 delegates attending. All parts of the United States and some parts of Canada were represented. In addition to Mr. Zukor, who is general manager of production for Paramount pictures, other officials were Barney Balaban, president of the firm and Frank Freeman, vice president.

A SERIES OF DRAWINGS BY J. W. GOLINKIN, REPRESENTING THE SPORTING FIELD, OF WHICH POLO IS AN IMPORTANT ASPECT. THE ARTIST, WHO IS WELL KNOWN FOR HIS SPORT DRAWINGS, HAS RECEIVED MEDALS

IN TWO SUCCESSIVE OLYMPICS, AT BOTH LOS ANGELES AND IN BERLIN.

Meanwhile, sports interest of the week is centering on the annual Florida Year-Round clubs Men's Golf championship, which got underway last Friday with a large field of golfers competing. The final rounds will be played tomorrow (Wednesday, March 24) with the golf trophy being awarded at a banquet in the Nineteenth hole of the Miami Biltmore Country Club. The tournament committee and club officers will be special guests on the occasion.

With indications pointing to especially heavy travel to Florida this spring, the round of sports and social events planned for winter visitors will continue at a sprightly pace. Much of the interest will be focused on the Florida year-round clubs, Col. Henry L. Doherty's resort organization, which is the bellweather of the new-world Riviera section. In addition to the fishing tournaments, aquatic carnivals, tennis and golf championships, the social activity of the colony is expected to achieve new brilliance during the coming fortnight.

Many members of the Palm Beach colony attended the tea dance in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza last Sunday, the occasion marking the last of these events which day, the occasion marking the last of these events which have been a popular feature of the winter program. A style show, featuring advanced fashions for summer, was an added attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neale of New York have arrived at the Roney Plaza for a spring vacation and D. T. Stanford, also of New York is vacationing here.

Following a seven-week vacation passed at the Roney Plaza, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schad of Brooklyn returned to their home. Mr. and Mrs. Schad entertained frequently during their visit at Miami.

One of the attractive members of the sub-debutante group was Miss Alice Crowley of Great Kills, N. Y., who passed a spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowley, at the Roney Plaza. The Crowleys have returned to their home and Miss Crowley has returned to school. Dr. and Mrs. Harry M. Beck of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who were season visitors here, left the past week for the North. Dr. and Mrs. Beck were feted at a number of parties during the vacation.

One of the highlights of the winter season was the second annual contract bridge tournament played at the Roney Plaza last Saturday for the twelveinch Roney Plaza loving cup.

The qualifying rounds were played Saturday afternoon and evening, with cups being awarded the winners in each session. The finals were played at 2 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday. It was a seven-table match of 52 boards. Robert W. Clifford was chairman of the tournament, other members being Baron Waldemar von Zedtwitz, Edward Marshall Cook, Jr., Newman L. Clarke, Edward B. Jouffret, Mrs. M. Applegate Archer and Mrs. Christine Smith.

The arrival of the SS Voltaire, British cruise boat, was the occasion for a number of parties in honor of the distinguished passengers. "Bright Night" was celebrated at the Roney Plaza while the boat was in port. English flags, a score of English songs and other special features marked the event which was attended by the ship's captain, V. G. Hickman. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. James McGuinness of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Schroth of Spring Lake, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Day of Maidstene, England; Mrs. F. F. Mackay of London; Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Lane of Kent, England; Miss Mable Ross Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pearcy, also of England.

New members of the colony are Miss Louise Shaw and Mrs. W. C. Shaw, both of McKeesport, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Placide Morency of Quebec; Henry B. Snyder, Gary, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kempner of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Loretta Gill, Chicago; Mrs. Lorin Chambers, Philadelphia; David B. Provan; Mrs. Edward E. Ford, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sampliner of Scarsdale, N. CENTER OF THE WINTERTIME WORLD

★ All the refinements of smart living in one of the world's greatest resort hotels.

★ Complete program of vacation activities included with hotel's other guest courtesies.

★ Private transportation system to take you to all vacation interests in the vast Miami playground.

★ Membership privileges — upon approval by membership committee — in three of America's most exclusive sports clubs.

BEING a Miami Biltmore guest is a valuable advantage. You enjoy more than luxurious hotel accommodations, because this hotel's policy of guest entertainment includes a COMPLETE VACATION for you . . . the facilities to indulge every hobby, to appreciate every resort diversion . . . all for the one price of your hotel living.

This season's program of things to do, to see, to enjoy at the Miami Biltmore is almost inexhaustible in one winter. There's the keen pleasure of golling with champions on the neighboring course of the Miami Biltmore Country Club, where Tony Manero, National Open Champion, and Denny Shute, P.G.A. titlist, head the pro staff . . . angling Denny Shute, P.G.A. titlist, head the pro staff . . . angling for deep-sea game in the teeming waters of the Florida "keys" . . . swimming in the warm waves of the Atlantic on a private beach . . . thrilling to the thoroughbreds thundering down the home stretch . . dancing in a moon-lit patio . . matching wits with bridge experts . . relishing good food, good wines, good entertainment in the Miami Biltmore main dining room.

Miami Biltmore main dining room.

When you are a guest in this "Center of the Winter-time World", your name is proposed to the joint membership committee of three famous clubs. Upon approval, you have membership privileges in the Miami Biltmore Country Club, Roney Plaza Cabaña Sun Club (Miami Beach) and Key Largo Anglers Club (on the Florida "keys")—without paying one cent in dues or initiation fees!

Not only do you have these additional facilities to

Not only do you have these additional facilities to enlarge the scope of your resort fun, but also you have the means of going to them, without difficulty, without expense. A fleet of luxurious aerocars (Pullman-like motor trailers), moving on rapid day-and-night schedules, is altered to take you to the races, theaters and all other vacation interests in this area. Daily round-trips are made even to the Key Largo Anglers Club, 48 miles south of Miami. This valuable aid in "going places" costs you nothing, because the service is an exclusive courtesy for nothing because the service is an exclusive courtesy for Miami Biltmore guests and other members of these clubs.

Nowhere else in the resort world will you thin a complete vacation program . . . such smart conveniences to renjoying all your hobbies . . . or such playtime privileges as in this center of wintertime gaiety.

UNDER THE STARS

HE PATIO is the Mecca for fashionable dinner and luncheon parties. The atmosphere of this lovely spot is both restful and distinguished and forms a perfect setting for dining and dancing. Members of Palm Beach society are to be found there at all times. Tuesday and Friday evening surprise gala dinner dances continue in high favor with the members of the resort colony. Jack Towne and his Patio orchestra play during both the luncheon and dinner-supper periods. Myrus, the many with the X-ray eye, continues to baffle the luncheon guests at The Patio with his startling mind readings.

Recently seen at The Patio were Mr. and Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford, who entertained for Mrs. John Jacob Astor. Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hutton were noted dining together. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Pell were hosts to a large party which included Count and Countess Carlo Filipponi, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hasler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis D'Esterre, Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Miss Rhonie Denzer, Miss Betty Beard, Mr. E. Leonard Beard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rovensky, Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson, Mr. Samuel Wagstaff, Mrs. C. S. Kirkand and Mrs. William J. McMurray.

Noted enjoying the incomparable cuisine of The Patio recently were Miss Eleanor Young, Mr. Woolworth Donahue and Mr. Frank Reddiker who formed a threesome.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sutherland dined at The Patio. Mr. Sutherland is the youngest director in the motion picture industry.

Mrs. C. Henry Buhl was the dinner guest of Mr. Pierre Barbey, Jr. Miss Marie Snyder and Miss Jean Snyder dined with Mr. Elliiott Sperber.

The late season finds no slackening of activities at the Club Madrid and the picturesque patio of the club is the destination of a large group who dine or come for dancing almost every night in the week. Major factors in the success of the club this season have included informality in keeping with the mood of the resort, superlative music by Ray Benson and his orchestra, and a cuisine made justly famous by Louis

Major Alexander de Seversky, famous aviator and airplane manufacturer, and Mrs. Seversky, dined at the club last week and were later joined by Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart.

In a group noted at the ringside were Mrs. C. Henry Buhl, Mrs. Andrew Hotchkiss, Mr. F. Homer Smith and Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr.

Mrs. Margaret Emerson, who returned recently after passing several weeks on the Pacific coast, was present at the club, having in her party here daughter, Miss Gloria Baker, Miss Dorothy de Milhau and Mr. Horace Kelland.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warner Clarke gave a dinner at the club for their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Whitney and Count and Countess Vincent Orssich. Mrs. Joseph F. Moran had a supper party that included her guests, Mrs. George H. Holmes, Mrs. Emily Davies and Miss Ann Morales.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gibson gave a supper party for Mr. and Mrs. James S. Throckmorton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shuck, Mrs. William J. Doig, Mrs. Elsie Parsons, Mrs. Lucille Bartlett, Mrs. Constance Witten, Mr. Alfred Shuck and Mr. Carl McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Coxe Yarnall, who are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall at Nautilus Cottage, entertained with a dinner at the club recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave H. Rainveille gave a dinner at the club for their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Murdoch,

Mr. and Mrs. Jules R. Timmins and Mrs. Ernest Savard.

Heading the first of a series of internationally known entertainers who are appearing at the Colony Club in one night galas, Chic Endor and Charlie Farrell, Society's Favorite Comedians, were guest stars in a special St. Patrick's Day gala at the fashionable resort club.

Saturday evening's gala was one of the largest of the season, with the "Social World and his Wife," turning out in full force to enjoy a lovely evening under the stars.

Val Ernie and his Continentals played many favorite song hits of current Broadway successes and varied the routine with delightful rhumba and tango tunes, interspersed with ingenious routines on the electric organ and the chimes.

Arthur Brown, as master of ceremonies, added to the gaiety of the situation by singing a number of old favorites requested by his many friends in the gathering.

Among the large dinner groups noted were those of Dr. Philip G. Cole, Mr. Edward J. Reeves, Mr. Charles Munn, Mr. C. D. Smithers, and many others.

One of the largest and gayest groups of the season was noted in the delightful supper parties at the Colony Club the evening before.

Mrs. Margaret Emerson had one of the most interesting parties of the evening, including Mr. Askel C. P. Wichfeld, Mr. Horace Kelland, Miss Dorothy de Milhau, Miss Gloria Baker, Mr. Wolcott Blair, Miss Grace Amory, Mr. Lytle Hull, Mrs. Vincent Astor, the Earl of Warwick. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Loening were also hosts to a large party.

Mr. Charles Munn had a charming party, including Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mr. Lytle Hull, the Hon. Frederick Winn, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Miss Mary Munn, Miss Francis Munn, and others.

TRUST SERVICE IN FLORIDA

To those winter residents who have acquired property in Florida and are considering the advantages which may result from establishing their domicile in Florida, may we suggest consultations with Florida counsel who in turn will find us ever ready to co-operate in all fiduciary matters. There may also be a distinct advantage in now providing for the care and final disposition that is to be made of such property.

The facilities of this institution, designed to assure the efficient management and care of the property of its clients, are backed by years of experience in the administration of trusts involving property located throughout the State of Florida.

Those faced with the care, management or preservation of property are cordially invited to confer with our executives.

BROILING

Gas gives you the in-tense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING

Gas gives you the oven yentilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that flat "steamed flavor."

BAKING

Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!

FRYING

Perfect, speedy frying requires instant high heat
—even spread of heat under the skillet numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!

BOILING

Faster! Gas brings foods to a boil in 2/3 the time or less of other fuels. More flexible, it gives you the exact shades of heat you

Mr. Foster's Remembrance Shop

112 North County Road

Wonderland of Gifts

We have such a host of beautiful novelties and lastminute gift suggestions here at our shop, that we don't know where to begin in describing them. We would much prefer to have you drop in and spend a happy half hour just browsing around.

Mr. Foster's is the only gift shop of its kind in the Palm Beaches, so simply bring your list of folks back home who have to be remembered, and you'll be surprised how easy it will be to find just the right gift for everyone from those "so-hard-to-please" inlaws to that fussy old Aunt in the country. Whether it's just a gay little trifle or a thrilling bit of jewelry, your last minute packing won't really be complete until you've tucked away a few mementoes of your Florida stay, from our shop.

And there are many items which we aren't troubling to pack away or ship North, and all of them are on display at greatly reduced prices!! We know you'll enjoy a visit to this Wonderland of Gifts, at Mr. Foster's Remembrance Shop.

Get Acclimated at Virginia Beach

Don't rush right into cold weather with its attendant ills, when you return North. Stop en route at The Cavalier, on the warm ocean shore, where there's just enough of a cool tang in the air (made up of ocean ozone and the aroma of pine from our great forest). Then you'll be acclimated and immunized for the colder Northern weather.

And you'll have a good time and save money. Every outdoor sport is enjoyed here all winter, plus indoor salt-water swimming, the social life is congenial, the clientele selected, and the seasonal rates the year's lowest. We are on the Ocean Highway, and your Seaboard ticket is valid via Norfolk (station for Virginia Beach).

Have you a favorite corner in your garden, a delicate fountain, a picturesque doorway or distinctive gate? Perhaps you are fond of some view of the entire villa?

We will hand block it for you in the style of the above illustration and reproduce it in hand block prints, which can be used in color or black and white in a new and really individual yuletide or seasonal greeting card. Your order must be placed with us now, however, if we are to give you this service.

Our artists also design and band block special cards for any occasion. Delivery within thirty days.

"Where Shall We Stop On Our Way Home?"

If only all problems were so easily solved! For 40 years it has been the smart tradition for returning visitors to stop at Pinehurst, on U. S. Route 1, or readily reached by the Scaboard Air Line.

Pinehurst is 650 feet above sea level, among the long leaf pines. The winter climate is kindly, never too warm or too cool, and practically every day permits full enjoyment of golf (on courses with marvelous grass greens), tennis, riding, fox hunting, polo and shooting.

Moderate hotel rates. Selected clientele. For booklet PB—write to Pinehurst, Inc., Pinehurst, N. C.

Floridians and Florida Visitors Know Home-Like Asheville-Biltmore as The Genuinely . . .

Hospitable Hotel for Vacations and Stop-Overs

Close-in and near business district, theatres and churches... yet quiet and restful. Courtesy and comfort stressed. Scores of famous mountain points within easy distance. 100 rooms—100 baths . . . rates from $2.25.

Convenient Starting Point for Trips to Smoky Mountains National Park.

Your game no better than your ball

Think of that when the ball you've picked on hunch, impulse or hearsay falls short of those needed, sweet extra yards and when an easy putt wobbles wide of the pin.

Play Safe this year . . Play The Balanced '37 SILVER KING

The perfection of this great ball is no accidental thing. From its "fixed" center to its tough, long life, vulcanized cover..it has been carefully co-ordinated with every phase of the modern game.

THE BALANCED '37 SILVER

GOES A LONG WAY TO SAVE A STROKE

Play Silver King for extra yardage . . accuracy in putting . . uniformity of play. Play three. See what they do for your game.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., RE-QUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, OF PALM BEACH LIFE, PUBLISHED TEN WEEKS DURING JANUARY, FEBRUARY AND MARCH AT PALM BEACH, FLORIDA, FOR OCTOBER 1, 1936.

State of Florida,

County of Palm Beach, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared Ruby Edna Pierce, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that she is the Editor and General Manager of the Palm Beach Life, and that the following is, to the best of her knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Editor, Ruby E-na Pierce, Palm Beach, Fla.; General Manager, Ruby Edna Pierce, Palm Beach, Fla.

2. That the owner is: The Davies Publishing Co., Inc., Palm Beach, Fla.; President, O. G. Davies, Palm Beach, Fla.; Vice-President, C. A. Davies, Palm Beach, Fla.; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruby Edna Pierce, Palm Beach, Fla.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: None.

RUBY EDNA PIERCE,

Editor and General Manager.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 8th day of October, 1936.

PAUL F. SCHROERS My commission expires June 14, 1939. (Seal).

CHAMPAGNE TUXEDO

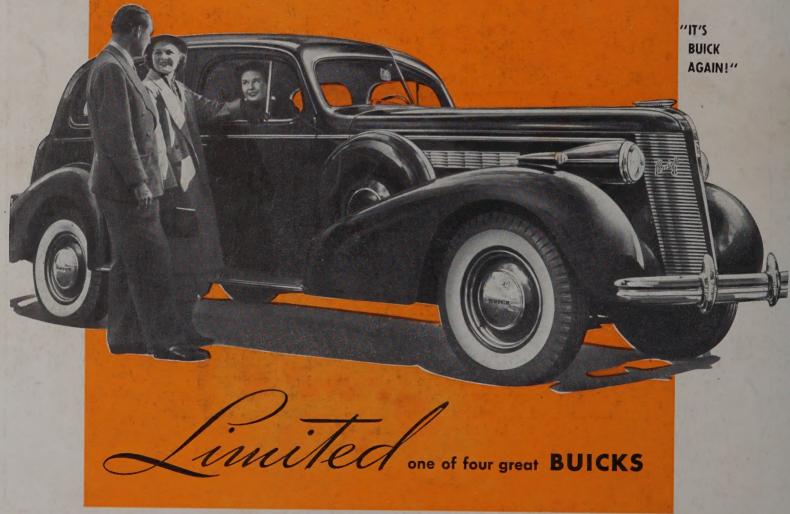

SPONSORED BY

STYLISTS TO A DISTINGUISHED CLIENTELE FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

In harmony with our new age of elegance and adornment, this coming spring and summer season will see colored Tuxedos in wine, plum, blue, green, maroon and various other shades being worn by Society leaders, which will be in keeping with our new colorful environment.

PAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"
